Waterworks Chief Seeks U.S. Rebate For Pipe to Camp

Says Work Done Is of No Present Value to City and Was at Government Order.

TOTAL COST $190,000 OF LAYING WATER MAIN

City Also Made Other Improvements Costing $750,000, But Will Pay This Amount.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.
Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington May 15.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—General Manager Zode Smith, of the Atlanta water works, will appear before the war department next week to urge upon the government an allowance to the city of Atlanta for an expense which was met by the city in extending its water service to Camp Gordon, the returns on which have been entirely out of proportion to the expense incurred by the city, it is claimed.

This watermain, which was laid to give this service, includes approximately 26,000 feet of wood. The city was required to use wood because the government would not approve, at that time, the use of iron pipe, the pipe being needed by the government for other purposes. There is in addition to this approximately 23,000 feet of iron pipe which will, of course, in time, be of some value to the city if the city limits are ever extended over the territory now fed by the pipe, but for the present it is an unnecessary burden to the city, it is alleged.

The total costs of these improvements were approximately $190,000. The income from the same since installation has been $142,000, with a cost of service during the same period of $114,000, leaving a profit of approximately $27,000 or $28,000. In obedience to the government's request the city did not allow any water users tapping in on this main, so as to protect the government use of the water.

Mr. Smith will also allege that about $750,000 worth of the improvements of the waterworks system outside of this was insisted upon by the government in order that the city might be in position at all times to give ample service and pure water. These expenses were met by the city and the improvements made.

Mr. Smith will make no point on this expenditure, however, for the reason that these improvements were needed to meet the present and future demands of the waterworks department for the city proper, but the expense of the Gordon main was an entirely extra expense incurred for the benefit of the government, it is alleged.

NEW REVOLUTION MOVE IN MEXICO CARRIED TO U. S.

Effort to Gain American Support of Plans Emphasizes Need of Early Action on Policy.

OPPOSITION LEADERS CONFER IN NEW YORK

Son-in-Law of Carranza Ready to Co-operate With Cantu in Action Against Obregon.

BY RALPH TURNER,
United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, May 15.—The necessity of early enunciation of the United States policy on Mexico has been emphasized in administration quarters by news that disgruntled elements in Mexican political circles have set actively at work to promote another revolution. They have carried their movement to the United States, hoping to gain support here.

During the past week, it is learned, leading representatives of the opposition factions in Mexico have met in New York and discussed the program they propose to follow in the event that the Obregon regime weakens tot he point where it seems possible for another group to gain the ascendancy.

These opposition Mexican leaders who have conferred in New York include Esteban Cantu, former governor of Lower California; General Francisco Murguia, military leader under Carranza, and a representative of Alfredo Robles Dominguez, who was presidential candidate of the national republican party in opposition to General Obregon at the last Mexican election.

Await Opportunity.

These men, it is said, have discussed "ways and means" of opposing Obregon if a sufficient weakening on his part seems to offer the opportunity. It is understood that Murguia, with the co-operation of Candido Aguilar, son-in-law of Carranza and former Mexican foreign minister, has agreed to join Cantu in a revolutionary movement.

It is partly because of this delicate situation, and its relation to the whole Mexican problem, that the administration has placed such importance on definition of our Mexican policy at the earliest possible date.

It was stated last week in the highest administration quarter that the policy had been determined, but was not ready for announcement. It is learned now that the administration has decided upon its form of policy, but has not yet reached a decision on the method of application.

Wants Certain Action.

The United States, it is explained, wants certain forms of action to be accomplished in Mexico, but it does not desire to weaken President Obregon, who is considered the best medium for achieving this action. Obregon has stated definitely that he will not sign a formal protocol with the United States and it is feared that any attempt to force such a step on his part would result in further confusion within Mexico.

It is for this reason, according to the opinion here, that the administration is withholding its pronouncement of policy until it decides upon a line of action which will satisfy American interests and still leave President Obregon in a position to carry out his reforms.

SUMTER MERCHANT KILLED IN STORE

Body of W. H. Scarboro, With Skull Crushed by Blows, Found in Store Near Americus.

Americus, Ga., May 15.—(Special.) The body of W. H. Scarboro, wealthy merchant, bearing wounds caused by a number of blows over the head, was found late today lying dead in his store, one mile west of Americus. A heavy gasoline tank handle matted with blood was found by the body, and it is believed that Mr. Scarboro's slayer crushed the merchant's skull with this instrument.

Robbery is believed to have been the motive for the crime, though a small sum of money was found scattered about the floor of the storeroom, the cash register, containing $25 or more, had not been entered, and the dead man's pockets had not been searched.

Mr. Scarboro, who was about 60 years of age and who lived alone, is known to have kept large sums of money, diamonds and negotiable securities in his store. When found, physicians stated that he had been dead a number of hours.

The body was discovered by Deputy Sheriff Tom Summers, who was summoned by a neighbor who became alarmed when he found the door to the store open and no one answered to his call.

Examination of the body by physicians revealed the fact that the entire top of the head had been crushed by blows. It is believed that the crime was committed about midnight, Mr. Scarboro being last seen alive at about 7 o'clock Saturday night.

A coroner's jury investigating the case is expected to render a verdict Thursday afternoon. Mr. Scarboro's nearest relative is Mrs. Morgan Stevens, of Americus, and she is not of close kin. His estate, it is estimated, will be in the neighborhood of $50,000.

AGED MASON IS DEAD

Funeral of Alfred Eichberg Will Be Held Today.

Alfred S. Eichberg, 61 years old, honorary thirty-third degree Mason and theo ldest living past master of Georgia lodge No. 96, F. & A. M., died at the residence, 45 West Thirteenth street, Sunday morning.

He was initiated in the Masonic order by General Albert Pike and received his thirty-third degree in Washington, D. C., in October, 1915. Mr. Eichberg was a member of the Shrine, B. P. O. E., the Hebrew Benevolent congregation, B'Nai Brith, the Loyal Legion, and a member of the board of directors of the Hebrew Orphan's home, members of which will attend the funeral in a body.

Funeral exercises will be held at the residence Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, Dr. David Marx officiating. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery, guards of the Scottish Rite acting as escorts. Georgia lodge No. 96 will have charge of services at the grave.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Caroline Eichberg; three sisters, Miss Ruby E. Eichberg, Mrs. Morris Benjamin, of Chicago, and Mrs. Lewis Clarke, of Cambridge, Mass., and three brothers, M. H., of Mobile, and H. R. and G. E. Eichberg, of Atlanta.

Georgia Peaches Pose for Pictures, and Work Ceases

There are more efficiency experts quartered in the Hurt building than anywhere else in Atlanta. They were all seen during the rush hour of business Saturday craning their necks from the office windows of that temple of applied industry watching the Georgia peaches of the Junior League Follies of 1921 get their photographs taken.

When the bevy of beauty waltzed of pirouetted or toddled across the street from the Atlanta theater to the vacant lot back of the building where the cameras were set up, window space in the structure was at a premium. Everybody quit work just like the whistle had blown and got busy getting their eyes full.

The Georgia peaches, drawn from the principal peaches of the Peachtree section, will furnish one of the most attractive dancing numbers of the follies. Their costumes were the first to arrive and accordingly they were the first to be photographed.

Junior Leagie members say that they are just a slight sample of some more of the beauty and grace that the follies are to display.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE CONTINUES

Fire Department Will Again Rally to Aid of Organization and Plans Canvass of City.

The Atlanta fire department has again rallied to the support of the Salvation Army.

Last week the night force of firefighters gave up a day of rest to help raise the year's budget of $50,000. This week the other half of the department personnel will do the same thing.

On next Wednesday, when the present day force of the fire department shifts "trick," something like a hundred firement will leave the sixteen stations in Atlanta to promote the Salvation Army's cause.

Chief William B. Cody is responsible for the idea that has resulted in great impetus to the Army's appeal to the Atlanta public. He called the meeting last Thursday which moved a big percentage of the firefighters to take the field. Their work on Friday materially swelled the total subscribed and won emphatic praise from Lowry Arnold, chairman of the appeal.

Will Work Wednesday.

Immediately thereafter, the members of the department who were prevented by duty from lending a hand notified Chief Cody that they wanted to be counted among the Salvation Army's active backers. Accordingly it was arranged that on Wednesday of this week they will cover the territory adjacent to their respective stations.

Other important developments during the week are promised by Chairman Lowry Arnold.

"We want to express sincere thanks for the splendid work contributed by so many of Atlanta's wonderful civic organizations," said Mr. Arnold, Sunday. "The Elks, the Rotary club, the Civitan club, the Ad Men's club and the Atlanta Realty board rendered particularly valuable service. The record of the Salvation Army merits the backing of Atlanta people and it is highly gratifying to find that this truth is recognized. We are still urgently in need of more volunteer workers. Nothing can keep this band of Samaritans from continuing their magnificent service to the community except lack of enough friends willing to give a little time and effort to a most worthy cause."

Meeting of Women.

Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, chairman of the woman's committee, has called an important meeting of leaders in the local feminine world for Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Georgian Terrace hotel. The heads of every woman's organization in Atlanta are particularly invited. It is anticipated that this conference will produce definite and favorable results looking to the realization of success in raising the $50,000 budget.

Salvation Army leaders are awaiting with interest reports of progress at Decatur. Mrs. D. C. Lawhon, prominent in civic affairs there, has undertake to enlist help from the DeKalb county town and her organization of women is planning a thorough canvess.

FATAL SHOOTING, AFTER MEETING OF CHURCH BODY

Jackson, Miss., May 15.—L. S. McGraw was shot and killed at Mount Horab church, near Seminary, thirty miles south of here, today by L. V. Smith. The shooting followed a meeting of a church committee at which Smith resigned as a member and McGraw was elected to fill the vacancy. Smith and a brother, Bolie Smith, who, it is said, took part in a fist fight after the breaking up of the meeting, were arrested and placed in jail at Collins.

GRILLING PLANNED FOR JOE EWING

Bunco Probe Will Last Into Next Week—Three Sessions Needed by Defense for Rebuttal.

The bunco probe will probably run over into the early part of next week before it is completed. While the prosecution has closed, the session on Tuesday will be devoted to a cross-examination of Joe Ewing, the attorney whose name has been prominently mentioned in the investigation, and three sessions will probably be required for the defense to submit its rebuttal.

If the stage is cleared for arguments by counsel for the prosecution and defense by Friday, the first days of next week should see the end of the long-continued investigation. Robert T. Jones, attorney for Detective Lieutenant Shaw, estimated Sunday night that three sessions would be required before the defense can complete its rebuttal. There are several witnesses to be called in this stage of the investigation. Judge James K. Hines, counsel for Detective Chief A. Lamar Poole, refused to estimate the length of time which the defense would ask for its rebuttal.

Eugene R. Black, the lawyer engaged to conduct the probe on behalf of Solicitor General Boykin, stated Sunday that he had closed the case, and that he was ready for the argument to begin. No time limit has yet been set for the argument.

Joe Ewing took the stand at his own request on Friday, and was questioned for about forty minutes before the session adjourned. He will resume his testimony when the next session opens at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night. On Friday he devoted himself to statements regarding his connection with the office of John A. Boykin, before he became solicitor, and with John Y. Smith, whose law partner he was. He also took occasion to testify about the Woodward letter and of his relations with Woodward. He will be cross-questioned by the defense on Tuesday, Judge Hines said.

MASONIC HEADS ARE GUESTS HERE OF HENRY HEINZ

A distinguished party of Masons was in the city Sunday as guests of Illustrious Potentate Henry C. Heinz. They arrived early in the day from Savannah, where on Saturday they had been guests of Illustrious Potentate Ernest A. Cutts.

They were escorted to the Ansley and tendered breakfast by Mr. Heinz, after which they were taken by him for an automobile ride over the city and out in the surrounding country. At noon they lunched at the East Lake Country club, and returning to the city late in the afternoon, boarded the Southern for Chattanooga. The party consisted of Ellis Garrettson, imperial potentate of North America, Tacoma; Judge Nolte, potentate Afife temple, Tacoma, and Judge Boyle, New York, emeritus member Imperial council. They were joined here by T. L. Crabtree, of Chattanooga, who accompanied them to that city.

PASTOR ATTACKS PEONAGE BOOKLET

Governor, Pamphlet and Committee on Inter-Racial Relations Scored in Dr. Ridley's Address.

Governor Hugh Dorsey, the publication of his booklet, "The Negro in Georgia," and the committee on inter-racial relations, were made subjects of a sensational pulpit attack, when they were scored Sunday night by Rev. Caleb A. Ridley, pastor of the Central Baptist church, in a prelude to his regular sermon.

The minister charged that "so far as Governor Dorsey is concerned, the pamphlet is pure political bunco. Like a former governor, he may be anxious to open a New York office, and in order to feather his own nest up there he is willing to slander the people and the state that made him governor."

The pastor declared that the governor will not live long enough to undo the "devilment he has done" and remove the disgrace he has heaped on the people of the state.

Says They Are Misguided.

Paying his respects to the committee on racial relations as the "coterie of misguided men who are responsible for the governor's pamphlet," he asserted that they "seem to feel called of Almighty God to rake and scrape heaven and earth, combing them with a fine-tooth comb, in order to find something with which to boost the criminal negro at the expense of every decent white man in Georgia.

"This is a white man's country," he continued, "was yesterday, is today, and will be forever, and these eloquent divines and philanthropists are doing more harm with their propaganda than all the lynchings and peonage of the years."

At the end of his attack he asked for the opinion of his congregation, and his remarks were indorsed by a standing vote, which was practically unanimous.

In order, he said, not to be misquoted, he had prepared a written manuscript of his address, which is as follows:

Attack on Governor.

"So far as Governor Dorsey is concerned, the pamphlet is pure political bunco. Like a former governor, he may be anxious to open a New York office, and in order to feather his own nest up there, he is willing to slander the people and the state that made him governor.

"In Governor Dorsey's campaign for the office he now holds, he was bitter in his denunciation of the very conduct and principles he now advocates and practices. It is evident to sensible men everywhere that there is a 'nigger in the woodpile.'

"The governor will not live long enough to undo the devilment he

GEORGE M. NAPIER MAY LOSE OFFICE

R. A. Denny Will Continue as Attorney-General Under Recent Court Decision, Claim Friends.

Although nominated by a substantial majority in the last primary and formally elected in the last general election, doubt is now expressed that George M. Napier will be able to qualify and take the office of attorney-general when the legislature meets in June and the state administration changes.

This information came Sunday night from friends of Attorney-General R. A. Denny, who, if the legal opinion expressed is upheld, will hold over, under the construction of the primary and general election laws announced in the supreme court decision the middle of the past week in the case of Napier vs. McLendon.

Basing the contention on that opinion, it is now held that Mr. Denny is in office "until his successor is elected and qualified," and, under the peculiar circumstances now existing there can be no qualifitation under the law until the next state general election.

No Appointment.

It is likewise held that there could be no appointment to the office, because there would be no vacancy unless Mr. Denny should resign, which it is understood he will not do, and, under the existing law and the construction by the supreme court, Mr. Denny's commission to the office, to which he was appointed, holds until a successor has "qualified."

Following the general election, Mr. Napier made contention that the term of office of the attorney-generel, as is the case of other statehouse officials, should begin January 1.

He undertook to properly raise this question and establish his point by demanding that the secretary of state certify the result of the general election to the governor, and declare that result. Secretary McLendon declined to do this, on the ground that, under what is known as the Joe Hill Hall act, construed in connection with the other election laws, he had no authority to declare the result or certify the election to the governor, but the returns from that election would be passed to the general assembly, canvassed there, and the result then declared.

Mandamus Asked.

Mr. Napier then sought by mandamus proceedings to compel certification by Mr. McLendon, and lost in the lower court.

The case was appealed and the supreme court sustained the lower court, and, in construing the Joe Hill Hall act, held that the returns from the election for attorney-general should not have been sent to the secretary of state nor to the legislature. The court said, in its opinion, they had been improperly transmitted to the secretary of state, whereas they should have been sealed in a separate package and sent from each county to the governor.

In other words, that the election managers in each county in the state should have consolidated the county returns and declared the result to the governor, a copy of which should have been sealed and filed in the archives of the county. That was not done, and, under the decision of the supreme court, they are likewise improperly held for the legislature.

Not Now Available.

The election managers have not certified them to the governor, and they are not now available to those managers in all the counties to be certified to the governor, and, it is held, therefore, there is no legal channel through which the decision of the supreme court can be complied with in respect to Mr. Napier's election, and, for that reason, he cannot legally qualify in June.

Being unable to legally qualify for the office, under the construction of the supreme court, Mr. Napier cannot become the legal successor to Mr. Denny, and, since Mr. Denny's commission reads that he is to hold office until his successor is elected "and qualified," it is held, he will, under the peculiar circumstances, either have to resign the office or hold it until the next general election results are properly consolidated and certified to the governor.

Mr. Denny was not in Atlanta Sunday night, and, therefore, a statement could not be secured from him.

ONLY 30 MINUTES SHOOTING SUNDAY IN HILL STRUGGLE

Sheriff Negotiates Armistice for Part of West Virginia-Kentucky Mountain Battle Front.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN OF KENTUCKY ARRIVE

Shortage of Food and Water Entails Intense Sufferings for Inhabitants of Towns.

Williamson, W. Va., May 15.—A period of 30 minutes of shooting at Merrimac, W. Va., was the extent of hostilities in the West Virginia-Kentucky border battle tonight, according to Captain J. R. Brockus, of the state police, who returned from the zone of operations shortly before midnight. After examining reports from the Mingo region, the captain said that at that hour the situation was quiet.

Captain Brockus and a squad of state troopers left Williamson for Merrimac early tonight when it was reported that shooting from Kentucky mountains opposite that village had resumed. Before the state troops reached Merrimac they were advised the firing had ceased and the party returned to this city.

Sheriff E. C. Pinson said that his reports indicated that the shots from the Kentucky hills had been answered by riflemen in the West Virginia side.

While the West Virginia troopers returned to headquarters here, six deputy sheriffs continued their trip into the mountains in an effort to capture the attackers who fired into Merrimac.

The shooting at Merrimac and the firing of a single shot at Mattewan, W. Va., early in the morning was the sum total of hostilities today.

Truce Is Arranged.

Warring factions in Blackberry City, Allburn and the McCarr section are observing an armistice negotiated by Sheriff Alonzo Pinson, of Pike county, and one lone shot is the sum total of firing along the Mingo-Pike county border in the last twenty-four hours.

The peace pact, however, does not affect the remainder of the mining territory where clashes have been frequent, and the situation is tense throughout the lentgh of the 12-mile front.

At daybreak Sunday a company of Kentucky national guardsmen detrained at Williamson, part of them remaining here, while detachments were sent on to Matewan and Merrimac, where they will recross into Kentucky.

Sheriff Pinson and Captain J. R. Brookus, of the state police, conducted the armistice negotiations through Dr. W. A. Dotson, a deputy sheriff representing the fighting forces of the Allburn Coal company. Under its terms, all hostilities were to cease at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and was "guaranteed" to be binding "until snipers on the West Virginia side of the river should break the pact."

Two Buildings Burned.

Two fires, which Harry Olmsted, acting chairman of the labor committee of the Williamson Coal Operators' association said he believed had been caused by incendiaries, occurred in the region. A small office of the Pond Coal company, at Sprigg, and garage of the Burnwell Coal company at the same place were burned.

Captain Brockus received a report late today from his men at

Milk Being Poured In Sewers to Keep High Price, Charge

Chicago, May 15.—Milk is poured into sewers and fed to hogs so as to keep prices at the pre-war level, Russel J. Poole, the city's militant cost of living expert, declares in a report to his superior. Poole says milk is plentiful but is being thrown away rather than allowed to enter the channels of trade, which would cause prices to drop. He blamed a combine "system" which, he alleged, fixed the prices farmers must accept for milk.

Luncheon Planned By Woman's Club Today Postponed

The luncheon which was to have been given this afternoon by the Atlanta Woman's club on their lawn has been postponed on account of the rain Sunday. So many reservations had been made that the club house would not be able to accommodate all the guests, and for that reason the postponement was decided on.

Citing Pershing's Wish to Continue Camp, Residents Seek Continuance of Car Service.

PERSHING TO DECIDE DISPOSAL OF GORDON

In Newly Appointed Capacity as Chief of Staff, General Will Have the Final Word.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON,
Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 15.—(By The Constitution Leased Wire.)—Citizens along Peachtree road, north of Oglethorpe university, and at Chamblee, Ga., are urging the war department to at once make definitely public its policy toward Camp Gordon so that they may know how to counter a statement made by the Georgia Railway and Power company that it will shortly discontinue its trolley car service and dismantle the electric road north of the university. These petitioners not only urge the retention of Camp Gordon as a military post, but take courage at and cite a recent statement by General Pershing that he proposed to personally appear before Secretary Weeks and the congressional committee and urge the retention of Gordon as a necessity in the new military policy of the government.

General Pershing expects to take this course within the next few days and in due course before it is too late. He has not done so earlier because his own status in the army had not been officially made public, his nomination to chief-of-staff yesterday having fixed that feature of his authority and dispelled further uncertainty as to general army plans.

Up to Pershing.

It must be understood that General Pershing has been made chief-of-staff to enable him "legally" to perform the functions recently announced by Secretary Weeks, when he proposed to inaugurate in time of peace a skeletonized general headquarters headed by General Pershing, the purpose of which is to be instantly prepared for active military operations in time of war. In order to enable General Pershing to perform this function he has been made chief-of-staff, and when he assumes that office he will be charged especially with the "organization and training" of all elements of the army of the United States including the regular army, the national guard and the organized reserves. It can be grasped therefore that he will practically be a law unto himself in retaining Gordon, if he feels, as he recently expressed his views to Congressman Upshaw, that Gordon is essential in the new plan to which he is to devote his time.

Order for Scrapping.

At the present hour of course the act of the Sixty-sixth congress, providing for the scrapping of Gordon after June 30, 1921, stands. That provision of law reads as follows:

"Provided, that no part of the unexpended balances of appropriations heretofore made for the support of the army shall be expended for construction at Camp Gordon, Ga., and the secretary of war is hereby directed to sell the real estate and buildings of said camp to the best advantage of the government, the proceeds of such sale to be covered into the treasury to the credit of miscellaneous receipts; provided further, that said sale shall not be made prior to June 30, 1921."

Under this provision no action will be taken in regard to the salvage of Comp Gordon until after June 30, when steps will be taken to carry the provisions of law quoted into effect, unless a new provision for Gordon in the meantime shall automatically repeal the above.

The latter will depend entirely upon the action of Genera Pershing, and he has said he will personally ask that Gordon be retained as a part of his new program.

A.,B.&A. EXPLOSION LAID TO NEGROES

Ben Hill Grand Jury Will Probe the Alleged Dynamiting of Track on Tuesday.

Fitzgerald, Ga., May 15.—Special.)—To consider the cases of two negroes arrested Friday charged with complicity in the alleged dynamiting the of Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway track near Fitzgerald last Sunday, the Ben Hill grand jury will be called into special session Tuesday, it was stated today by Sheriff E. H. Dorminey. The two negroes, both of whom are said to be former employees of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, were arrested on evidence secured by Detective Waggoner, of the Pinkerton agency, according to Sheri Dorminey. The sheriff, Deputy Gordon Roberts and Deputy Putnam made the arrest.

The negroes, Sid Reese and Will Swinson, made no statement except to deny knowledge of the alleged dynamiting. They are understood to have been taken to Bibb county for safe keeping. Sheriff Dorminey infers that other arrests are expected in connection with the case, including some white men.

The Ben Hill grand jury has been held in session subject to call of the foreman since the April term of court, on recommendation of Judge O. T. Gower. Judge Gower will be here Tuesday to hold a chamber session of court.

The alleged dynamiting, which took place last Sunday, tore up more than a foot of track when a freight train is supposed to have touched off an explosive charge, but the train held the rails, and no one was hurt.

MAN IS FOUND DEAD NEAR MOBILE SUBURB

Mobile, May 15.—Otto Kinchin, 22, was found dead near Saraland, a suburb of Mobile, with a bullet hole through his body. Delma Reed, 21, was arrested by the county police authorities and held for the killing. The shooting occurred Saturday night, but the body was not discovered until today near the roadway. The cause of the shooting is being investigated.

Alabama Miners Will Need Relief, Says Committee

Birmingham, Ala., May 15.—Fourteen hundred and seventy-seven families in sixteen Alabama mining camps will require relief within two weeks unless the heads of the families can obtain employment in the meantime, according to a report compiled by a citizens' relief committee, after a survey of unemployment in the various sections.

Of this number, 532 of the families live in Pratt City, the report says. Health in all the communities is declared excellent, but 50 families are in need of immediate supplies. Eight communities are not in need of aid in the immediate future.

Unless proper food is provided in adequate quantities, according to the report, the health of 192 children under 5 years of age in families not listed as requiring relief would be impaired within the next few weeks. This number, added to the children in the families needing relief, makes a total of 845 small children who will have to be supplied until their parents can provide the necessary food for them.

Suggestions of the committee include distribution of food to children under 5 through the Red Cross; to women and larger children through the Salvation Army, and entrusting of funds to a special committee. The suggestion is also made that funds be loaned at a low rate of interest to those in need to tide them over until they are able to secure employment and make repayment.

The report declares that the population of 37 mining communities decreased from approximately 4,698 families on April 9 to 1,926 families on May 7, with 1,477 families in 16 camps in need of early assistance.

Party to Mark Reconciliation Ends in Tragedy

Memphis, May 15.—Miss Billie Moore was shot and killed late today by John M. Morris, wealthy planter, living near Collierville, a Memphis suburb. Morris, after shooting Miss Moore four times, slashed her throat with a pocket knife as she lay dying in the yard of the Morris home, according to witnesses. Morris then attempted to commit suicide by cutting his own throat, and is in a critical condition at a hospital here.

Miss Moore was killed at a dinner given by Morris to celebrate a supposed reconciliation with the young woman, and also in observance of the first birthday of Billie, Morris' little son. Two sisters of Miss Moore were also present. Before the dinner Miss Moore is said to have told her sisters that Morris had threatened her life and was insanely jealous of her. Hardly had the party seated themselves at the dinner table when, Miss Moore's sisters told the police, he jumped up and said that he had announced that he intended to kill Miss Moore, and intended to do it now. He began firing at her and she ran into the yard. Six shots were fired, four taking effect.

After his revolver was empty, Morris is said to have leaned over her body and slashed her throat from ear to ear with his pocket knife. He then attempted to kill himself. Before being taken to a hospital here, Morris wrote a will, leaving all his property to his little son Billie. His recovery is doubtful.

1,000 ENGINEERS HOLD CONVENTION HERE NEXT YEAR

Some time during the year 1922, probably in May, Atlanta will be host to more than a thousand members of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. This is one of the four national engineering societies, with headquarters in New New York city, and is divided into sections, one of which is the Atlanta section, composed of about 75 members, most all of whom live in the city. N. C. Harrison is chairman of the Atlanta section, and is in charge of the local activities.

The total membership of the organization is about 15,000, which is constantly increasing at the rate of about 2,000 a year. The affairs of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers are controlled by a council of sixteen members, consisting of a president, vice president and managers. These meet monthly either in New York or other points, in addition to holding an annual meeting each year in New York. A spring meeting is held annually in some city, which, in this instance, will be in Atlanta.

THE steeplejack follows a perilous calling. Yet his danger is no greater than yours when constipation preys upon your health.

Constipation is the root of more sickness than all other causes. Its damage comes swiftly, relentlessly. Waste matter remaining in the intestines quickly spreads its poisons.

Little can you afford to parley with constipation. Prompt relief should be sought. Too slow—and too uncertain—are old-fashioned, overnight cathartics. They allow time for intestinal poisons to continue their destructiveness.

Medical science today prescribes a water laxative—a laxative that will flush away the impurities. Physicians everywhere recommend Pluto Water. It is certain and pleasant in action, prompt and positive in results. The minerals in Pluto help soften the waste accumulation. The water flushes it gently away.

Keep Pluto Water always on hand for regular and emergency use. Bottled at French Lick Springs, Ind. Your physician prescribes it.

3 WOUNDED IN FIGHT IN SEAMEN'S STRIKE

Beaumont, Texas, May 15.—Three persons shot and seriously wounded last night in a riot incident to the seamen's strike at Port Arthr, according to a telephone message to a local newspaper at midnight. Harvey Patillo, a special officer, and two sailors whose names were not given were shot in a fight in the dark.

Two Ships Clear.

Mobile, Ala., May 15.—Two United States shipping board steamers cleared from Mobile yesterday with non-union crews. The steamers had very little delay in loading their cargoes. James H. Grace, an agent of the marine firemen's union, was fined $50 in the police court yesterday for calling non-union men on a shipping board steamer scabs.

Rev. R. H. Ward Preaches Annual Sermon Sunday At the Holmes Institute

The annual sermon of the Holmes institute was delivered in the chapel Sunday afternoon by Rev. R. H. Ward, D. D., pastor of Allen Temple A. M. E. church. The subject of his sermon was "Seek Promotion." Plantation melodies were furnished by the students of the Holmes institute.

The principal address was delivered by C. W. McClure, who highly indorsed the work being done by the Holmes institute among the colored people of the city.

Mrs. C. W. McClure urged the mothers to consecrate their children to the service of God and the uplift of humanity.

W. Woods White made a strong speech, commending the work of the institute as it relates to the unfortunate people of the city. "The good white people of Atlanta," he said, "are always willing to assist the colored people in any movement for better education along constructive lines."

Rev. W. J. Williams, president of the trustees' board, urged upon the colored people the importance of the right kind of education for their children.

Rev. B. R. Holmes, president, made the closing remarks, giving a brief history of the work being done on the new building of the Holmes institute. Contributions were received from the churches, colored insurance companies and other organizations for the new building of the Holmes institute.

Non-Union Band's Music Starts Fight; Burial Is Delayed

Chicago, May 15.—Employment of a non-union band to play at the funeral of Miss Martha Vavroch resulted in a free-for-all fight, a call for the police and a two-hour delay in the burial proceedings.

The trouble started when pallbearers were bringing the casket down the front steps of the Vavroch home to the hearse.

Someone kicked a hole in a bass drum. This was the signal for a clash between union chauffeurs and the non-union band, during which musical instruments sailed through the air and fists flew in all directions. Finally the police reached the scene and stopped the rumpus.

The chauffeurs — fifty-two of them—wouldn't move the mourners to the cemetery until the band was "fired."

The procession, minus the band, arrived at the cemetery two hours late.

LEADING HOTEL MEN ARE ENTERTAINED HERE

Forty of the most prominent hotel men of America with their wives were guests Saturday of the convention bureau, the local hotel men, and the Caterers' club, the guests composing a party of delegates in attendance at the National Greeters' association convention in New Orleans. Its members arrived from Birmingham early Saturday morning and were given a delightful breakfast at the Piedmont hotel, after which they went on an auto ride which carried them to points of interest, including the federal prison, the cyclorama and Grant park, and the East Lake Golf club, and at 1 o'clock they were honored with a luncheon at the Ansley hotel.

W. S. Adams, an official of the National Greeters' association, was leader of the party.

Welcome addresses were made at the luncheon by N. B. Williams, president Atlanta Greeters; W. C. Royer, president Atlanta Hotel Men; J. F. DeJarnette, president Georgia Hotel Men's association, with responses from W. S. Adams for the Greeters, and Jacob Miller for the Caterers.

The following composed the remainder of the Atlanta committee present: Will V. Zimmer, Charles Kerimadis, J. R. Watts, secretary Atlanta Caterers' association; C. L. Dinkler, manager Ansley; Henri Brodeur; E. L. Thornton, president Atlanta Caters' club; H. E. Winter, H. B. Wisenotsky, W. S. Calloway, Frank Reynolds and John Russel, of the Atlanta Convention bureau.

SCHOOL FIELD MEET WINNERS ANNOUNCED

The judges of the public school Field day that was held on the campus of Morris Brown university, have just announced the winners as follows: Gray Street school, first place, with 17 points; Summer Hill school, second, with 14 points; Yonge Street school, third, with 10 points; Ashby Street school, fourth, with 8 points; Mitchell Street and Bell Street tied for fifth place. A silver loving cup was awarded the Gray Street school, the highest point winner.

COURT IN MONROE CONVENES MONDAY

Juliette, Ga., May 15. — (Special.) The May term of Monroe county superior court will convene Monday, May 16. Both civil and criminal dockets are unusually heavy and court will probably last two weeks. Civil cases will be heard the first week. The grand jurors will be the same who served at the last term of court. There are a large number of prisoners in jail. Most of the criminal cases are for gaming, carrying concealed weapons, and violating the state prohibition law. Judge W. E. H. Searcy, of Griffin, will preside, with Solicitor E. M. Owen, of Zebulon, representing the state.

Rev. B. R. Holmes Preaches.

More than 1,000 colored citizens listened to a very interesting sermon Sunday morning delivered in Bethel A. M. E. church by Rev. B. R. Holmes, president of the Holmes institute, on the subject, "The Christian Warfare." At the close of the sermon Rev. R. H. Singleton, pastor, opened a campaign to raise $4,000 for the completion of Bethel A. M. E. church. At the close of the service a donation was given to the new building fund of the Holmes institute.

Halts Jail Delivery.

Juliette, Ga., May 15.—(Special.) A jail delivery was narrowly averted recently at the Monroe county jail by Sheriff Robert Bittick when he heard a peculiar noise in the upper story of the jail. He found that some of the prisoners had almost sawed one of the iron bars to the cells in two and found several hack saws concealed. He has been unable to learn which of the prisoners were making efforts to escape.

"CALL FOR POLICE" SUGGESTION CURES "PARALYZED" BOY

An apparently paralyzed boy was found in the doorway of the home of J. T. Ware, at 968 Peachtree street, Sunday afternoon. Fastened in the buttonhole of the boy's coat was a note which read, "I am sending this boy to you."

The members of the family were in a dilemma as to what to do with the youth. Taking care of him, sending him to the hospital and other suggestions were made. Then someone said, "Let's call the police."

Then came the quickest cure on record. The boy was out of the house and down the street at a speed seldom equalled on the race track. Believing that it had been the intention of the youngster to gain entrance to the house by his novel method for the purpose of stealing whatever he could find, the police were notified.

All Women to Sit In Council; Mayor Is a Married Man

Highwood, Ill., May 15.—This town is to have a women's city council—the first of its kind in the United States.

The newly elected mayor, Thomas E. Welsh, is a firm believer in women. He appointed three women from Highland's three wards, known as ward chairmen, and each in turn will appoint six women from her ward to sit as the council body. They will sit as auxiliary to the regular council and offer advice on all matters brought before the men's council.

"I'm a married man," said the mayor, "and I know how carefully and sanely women run things."

MILLS AT AMERICUS TO RESUME CRUSHING

Americus, Ga., May 15.—Special.) The Americus Cotton Oil mills, which have been shut down during several weeks, will resume crushing Monday morning, and 150 men, mostly negroes, will be given employment. Prevailing stability of the oil market was given as the cause for renewal of activities.

Cotton seed are now moving steadily, mill operators assert, and it is probable that the crushing season will be continued all summer owing to the shutdown, during which customary season repairs were in progress.

CLABO FOUND GUILTY ON BRIBERY CHARGE

Nashville, Tenn., May 15.—The senate committee, composed of Senators Bond, Graham, Craig and Durham, democrats, and Senator W. S. Tucker, republican, which has been investigating for some weeks rumors and charges of bribery and corruption during the recent session of the legislature, has submitted its report, which was unanimous, to Governor Alf Taylor. Its conclusions and recommendations were:

That Senator E. N. Clabo, of Sevierville, "deliberately, corruptly and eagerly agreed to and did accept $300 in lawful money of the United States as a consideration for his vote and influence to defeat the passage of a certain bill, known as the sales tax bill."

That "he was not induced to do so by being put under the influence of liquor, all the proof showing that he had agreed to accept a bribe several hours prior to receiving the same, and that neither at the time of agreeing to receive it, nor at the time of actually receiving it was he intoxicated or under the influence of liquor."

Warrants Expulsion.

That "having reached these conclusions, we believe he should not remain a member of the senate, but inasmuch as the session has adjourned and it would be expensive to call an extra session, we do not believe it wise to do so."

In case an emergency for an extra session should arise, however, the recommendation is made that the matter of Senator Clabo's expulsion be included in it.

That Robert L. Carden, state insurance commissioner, and former Judge D. B. Puryear, of Memphis, "assumed to act without authority and used improper methods in dealing with senate bill No. 1026. This bill affected certain insurance companies. They are alleged to have added a section to the bill after it had passed the senate.

Urges Criminal Action.

That as to Senator Kemper and Representative Rawls, of Robertson county, who were alleged to have received bribes, "we recommend that the evidence dealing with this matter be delivered to the proper criminal authorities of Davidson county for investigation and such act on as the proof will warrant." In case an extra session of the legislature is called, the recommendation is made that Kemper and Rawls cases be included in the call.

"No person testified directly that either the $100 or the $60 or any part of same was paid to Senator Kemper and Representative Rawls," said the report, but there are many facts and circumstances in the record which strongly indicate that this was done. The only denial of this was the testimony of Walter Rawls and his brother, Tom Rawls, which was so inconsistent, weak and unreasonable that the committee feels justified in wholly disregarding it. Notwithstanding the said facts and circumstances indicated that these parties received this fund, neither of them testified before the committee or denied under oath that the fund had been paid to them."

To Study Report.

The committee also called attention to the "peculiar and unusual testimony" of Insurance Commissioner Carden with regard to approaching Representative Russell, of Knox county, upon the 8 per cent interest bill.

After the report of the committee had been submitted to him in person, Governor Taylor declared that he would not make a formal statement until after he had carefully studied the report.

He said, however, that he would not call an extra session of the legislature now to act upon it, as he deemed it unnecessary at the present time. The report will be turned over to the attorney-general of Davidson county to be used in the prosecution of persons whom the latter might deem guilty of violating the law, the governor said.

O. R. T. DELEGATES HURT WHEN STEPS COLLAPSE

Savannah, May 15.—While assembled on a newly-built tier of steps for the purpose of having a group picture taken, several delegates to the O. R. T. convention were injured yesterday afternoon when the steps collapsed. More than a dozen injured were taken to hospitals. None was fatally hurt.

PASTOR ATTACKS PEONAGE BOOKLET

has done and remove disgrace he has heaped upon as good people as ever lived on this continent.

"I am glad that Tom Hardwick rings clear on the subject, and that as governor he will answer the charges and insinuations now being circulated with the authority of the state house behind them. And when he sets himself to the holy task, I hope he will pay his respects to the coterie of misguided men who are responsible for the governor's pamphlet, and who seem to feel called of Almighty God to rake and scrape heaven and earth, combing them with a fine tooth comb, in order to find something with which to boost the criminal negro at the expense of every decent white man in Georgia.

"Gone Out of Their Way."

"They have gone out of their way to hobnob with the negro—fill his mind with impossible dreams—put into his mouth inflammatory messages—encouraging him in insolence and lay the foundation for his utter undoing.

"This is a white man's country—was yesterday, is today, and will be forever; and these eloquent divines and philanthropists are doing more harm with their propaganda than all the lynchings and peonage of the years.

"Even a good bishop of the Episcopal church, in his sermon yesterday, took occasion to slap secret organizations that bar the negro from membership, and congratulate himself and his church on maintaining a peculiar relationship to 'this neglected race.' I hope he enjoys the glory of it.

"The secret orders to which he refers have done far more for the protection and uplift of the negro than the good bishop and his church can ever do by preaching equality propaganda. This truth will dawn upon the bishop, the inter-racial committee, and even upon the governor some day.

"Overstepped Bounds."

"By the time this aggregation of self-appointed benefactors get through with Sam Olive, Judge Searcy, Judge Shirley and Tom Hardwick, they will find that they have overstepped all bounds of justice and truth in order to accomplish a pipe dream as thin as common air.

"The people of Georgia resent with hearty hatred the circulation of Dorsey's slanders and published criticisms of certain members of Dorsey's committee.

"It is a known fact—easily established—that right in the very heart of Atlanta there is a church in which the whites and the blacks mix and mingel together, both in work and in worship. The building is a three-story affair, and up to a while ago—and I presume is yet—used in the following fashion: The first floor as a church the second floor as a school for negroes, taught by white women, and the third floor as a dance hall, where the inmates go for recreation.

Refers to Boare Meeting.

"These negroes are taught social equality, both by precept and example. No wonder that negro men appearing some months ago before the board of education spoke of Atlanta as sleeping over a smoldering volcano and no wonder these same negro men tell your school board that they are not asking favors, but demanding their rights.

"So sure as the sun shines, if this race-loving committee and our beloved governor keep up their pamphlet writing, card publishing and hobnobbing propaganda—and a few soft-brained church people keep on mixing with and mollycoddling the younger generation of negroes—conditions will grow worse and worse until our mistakes will cost us more to repair than we want to pay.

"I count myself a most loyal friend of the negro race, but I am a white man. Almighty God set boundary lines to our co-operation that I will not and the negro must not pass."

WOMEN TO GET COMMITTEE JOBS

Nine Places on Baptist Convention General Board Set Aside—Effort for Move Fails.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 15.—By a practically unanimous vote the Southern Baptist convention tonight voted to give women representation on the executive committee, and all five of the general boards of the convention, effective immediately. The representation on the general board will be nine women out of a total membership of thirty-six, while that on the executive committee will be six women out of a total membership of twenty-six.

The Woman's Missionary union, an auxiliary of the convention, presented a memorial asking for twelve women on each board and nine members on the executive committee, and asked that these women be members of the Woman's Missionary union, and nominated by that body. The convention refused to accept either of these stipulations, holding that any woman in any church affiliating with the convention is eligible for membership on the boards and the committee, and that no outside organization could be allowed to make nominations for positions in the convention. The convention accorded the women full rights on the floor two years ago.

In the original report of the committee was considered the memorial consisting of one member from each state, it was recommended that two of the six women on the executive committee be the president and secretary of the Woman's Missionary union, but this provision was stricken out on the motion of Dr. A. J. Barton, of Louisiana.

Baptists Save Lives.

Clothing for the naked, food for the hungry, rehabilitation of farms through provision of building material, live stock and seed, and cash where money was needed above everything else, contributed by the Baptists of America have saved lives, revived hope and courage, and opened wide the doors of missionary opportunity in practically all of the countries of middle and eastern Europe which suffered most from the world war, Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke, Baptist commissioner for Europe, made this declaration at a mass meeting of the convention, which was attempted by 7,500 people, here this afternoon. From five intensive tours of the continent within the past twelve months, Dr. Rushbrooke brought a message of appreciation of the peoples aided and of prospect for the new program of relief and missionary effort instituted jointly by the Baptist foreign mission boards of all countries, following the London conference of last July, when the needs and opportunities of Europe were considered. The speaker, who has been especially charged with the distribution of relief funds contributed by the Baptist bodies of the world, declared that in the bestowal of relief no religious or racial differences were regarded.

While marked improvement in the economic situation has been noted in some of the countries, Dr. Rushbrooke believes it will be necessary to continue relief work on the continent for three years.

Religious liberty has been granted in a majority of the countries of Europe, following the conclusion of the war, Dr. Rushbrooke said but in Rumania the persecution of Baptists has continued until within the past few weeks their meeting houses having been closed and their congregations forbidden to assemble there. One of his duties has been to try and alleviate this situation, and he reports that recent manifestos have been issued by the government, granting the majority of the concessions for which Baptists have asked for all religious bodies.

Supplements Report.

Dr. George W. Truett, of Dallas, who was a representative of the foreign mission board at the London conference, supplemented Dr. Rushbrooke's report and challenged the Baptists to complete their $75,000,000 campaign during the next three years and then launch another five-year program for $300,000,000.

No business was transacted Sunday, the afternoon mass meeting being the only general assembly. Visiting ministers occupied the local pulpits.

Monday, the fourth business day of the convention, promises to be one of its busiest, within the consideration of south-wide evangelistic program, further consideration of foreign missions, reports of the committee on social service and resolutions, new seminaries and universities, and destitute churches. The night program will be given over to the consideration of women's and laymen's work.

Page Louis Gregg! Gilly Has Found Another Master

Washington, May 15.—Leo K. Couch, of the bureau of biological survey, United States department of agriculture, has a pet gopher.

He takes it with him when he shows farmers how to trap the pests in their fields.

The gopher gives a first-hand exhibition of how tunnels are made, how the mound is built, and how the entrance is stopped up.

This enables spectators to learn how traps may best be placed.

After his demonstration, the gopher is dug out by his keeper, returned to his cage, and dined on carrots.

Bright Pecan Outlook.

Thomasville, Ga., May 15.—Pecan growers state that prospects are good for a fine crop of nuts here this season, as small nuts are beginning to show up well and trees seem quite full. With the crop cut off last year by the unusually wet weather that prevailed so long, growers are hoping to be able to realize good returns from the crop this year.

Aurora Borealis Effect on Wires Laid to Sun Spot

New York, May 15.—Electrical influences exerted by the aurora borealis or northern lights, believed to be caused by an unusually large sun spot, continued today to play havoc with the telegraph traffic throughout the United States, especially in the east.

Beginning Friday night telegraph wire chiefs reported that this natural phenomenon had injected extra voltage into their wires, causing what are known as "earth currents" and interrupting traffic. The same condition continued throughout the day Saturday and became increasingly intense Saturday night, causing one of the severest disturbances of its kind in thirty years.

For more than an hour before midnight Saturday virtually every telegraph wire leading from New York was out of commission. Ocean cables also were slightly affected. Curiously, however, the disturbances that tied up the land wires seemed to strengthen the signals of wireless apparatus, which were unusually clear during the period of the heaviest land wire disturbance.

INFLUENCE OF SUN SPOTS.

Washington, May 15.—Interruption of telegraphic communication by electrical influences, if due to the presence of spots on the sun as set forth in the Brashear theory, will pass away within 48 hours, in the belief of officials at the naval observatory here. The present spot or spots on the face of the sun estimated by naval observatory officials at 94,000 miles in length and 21,000 miles in latitude, was nearest the earth last night and today through rotation of the sun was moving away from the solar meridian. Naval observatory officials said today that, leaving out of consideration the decreasing effect of the spots on electrical currents on the earth through the usual breaking up of the spots, the regular rotation of the sun on its axis would within a few days carry the spots so far from the earth as to make their influence negligible.

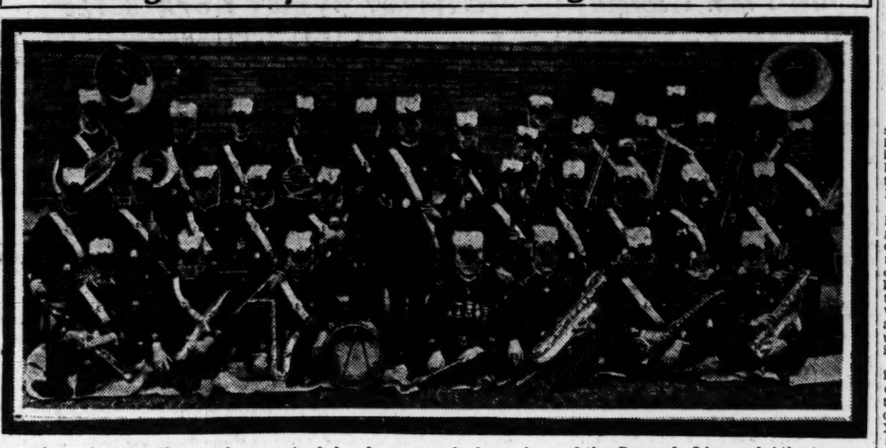

The theory that the aurora borealis or northern lights, which send "earth currents" through telegraph wires, interrupting communication, results from sun spots was advanced by Dr. John A. Brashear, the late Pittsburg astronomer. The theory has never been definitely accepted, naval observatory officials asserted, but the fact that spots on the sun usually are accompanied by electrical disturbances has resulted in almost general acceptance of the theory.

The spots which now are present on the face of the sun and which were visible to the naked eye today with the use of a smoked glass, were first photographed at the naval observatory last Monday when the rotation of the sun brought that side of the solar body within view. The spots at that time, according to Dr. G. H. Peters, an official at the observatory who photographed them, were about one and a half to two days old. The following day the photographs showed the spots to be much agitated, the gaseous vapors of which they are composed resembling a cyclonic storm on the earth, Dr. Peters said. Yesterday's photograph, taken about noon, showed the spots to be near the solar meridian.

Naval observatory officials said that presence of such a large group of spots at this time was most unusual, inasmuch as the prevalence of the spots move in an 11-year cycle and the apex of the prevalence occurred about four years ago.

Knight Templar Band Is Organized Here

A movement of unusual interest in fraternal circles has been effected in the organization of Knights Templar band, composed of members of Coeur de Lion and Atlanta commanderies, Knights Templar.

This is one of the few Templar bands in the United States and the only one in the entire south. It is composed of about forty members, all musicians of recognized ability. Officers of the organization are Eminent Sir Wesley Hirschburg, president; Sir John A. Scharf, director; Emminent Sir Eugene Hardeman, secretary, and Sir W. J. Stoddard, drum major.

The initial appearance of the band in its official capacity will be Sunday, May 15, at which time Knights Templars of Atlanta will attend services at Trinity church, upon which occasion Sir S. R. Belk will deliver a Templar sermon to the order.

In the line of march will be many knights of prominence, among them Most Eminent Sir Joseph K. Orr, grand master of the grand encampment of the United States; past grand commanders of Georgia, Right Eminent Sirs Luther P. Stevens, John R. Dickey and John W. Murrell; Eminent Sir Perry L. Blackshear, senior grand warden of the grand commandery, and many past commanders and knights.

On Tuesday evening the band and many of the knights of Atlanta will leave for Macon to attend the sixtieth annual conclave of the grand commandery of Knights Templar of Georgia, which convenes in that city on May 18 and 19. The Order of Knights Templar is a Masonic order of an intensely Christian and patriotic character. During the late world war more than 20 per cent of the knights of Georgia were either enlisted men or served as officers through the officers' training camps.

CRUTE DROWNED IN MACON PARK

Body Will Be Brought to Atlanta Today for Funeral Service and Interment.

Macon, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Emil Crute, aged 20 years, assistant pressman for The Macon Telegraph, was drowned at Lakeside Park at noon today, in spite of heroic efforts by J. D. McGee, a stereotyper, and Elma Patton, an employee of the park, to save him.

Just before diving into the water, Crute had been eating green peaches, and this is believed to have had something to do with his drowning, for he was considered a good swimmer, and was a young man of powerful physique. In the struggle for rescue of the drowning man, both McGee and Patton were pulled under the water and came near losing their own lives, but managed to break loose and were dragged from the water by O. E. Reddy, manager of the park.

Young Crute was the son of W. Frank Crute, pressman for The Telegraph, who formerly served in a similar capacity on Atlanta newspapers. Besides his father, he leaves one brother and four sisters.

The body will be taken to Atlanta, leaving here at noon Monday, and the funeral will be held at West View cemetery.

The coroner's jury, which investigated the drowning, recommended the passage of a law requiring proprietors of public bathing beaches in Bibb county to have at least three life preservers, made of cork or suitable material, attached to a rope, ready to be thrown to persons in distress in the water. Today's drowning was the second of the present season, George Seigler having lost his life last Sunday at Houston factory.

Surviving Mr. Crute are his brother, W. F. Crute, Jr., and four sisters, Kathryn, Carrie Frank, Barbara and Adelia Crute, all of Macon; two aunts, Mrs. E. K. Boggan and Mrs. Pauline Kinnear, both of Atlanta.

The body will be brought to Atlanta and Dr. L. O. Bricker, pastor of the First Christian church, will officiate at the funeral services to be held Tuesday afternoon from Poole's undertaking parlors. Interment in West View cemetery.

General Assembly Of Presbyterians Of South Thursday

St. Louis, May 15.—The sixty-first general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, better known as the southern Presbyterian church, will convene in the Westminster church here Thursday and will continue through the following Wednesday. Three hundred commissioners representing a total church membership of 376,000 are expected to attend.

Among the more important questions to come before the assembly will be the drafting of a constitution for the United assembly to be formed of representatives selected by the supreme jurisidction of each of the Presbyterian and reformed churches entering the united assembly. A special committee, which was appointed to co-operate with committees of the other constituent bodies, will report at this session.

The report of five interim committees also will be taken up by the assembly including the report on the proposed union of the general assembly of the southern Presbyterian church with the Associate Reformed Presbyterian synod.

Contest for Moderator.

The election of the moderator will be the outstanding feature of the opening day of the assembly and as a moderator is not permitted to succeed himself, a lively contest is contemplated. A number of commissioners have been mentioned in connection with the moderatorship including Rev. Henry H. Sweets, D. D., of Louisville, Ky.; Rev. A. D. P. Gilmour, D. D., of Spartanburg, S. C.; Rev. A. G. Jones, D. D., of San Antonio, Texas; Rev. A. B. Curry, D. D., of Memhis, Tenn., and Rev. C. H. Chester, D. D., Nashville, Tenn. The retiring moderator is Rev. W. L. Lingle, D. D., of the Presbytery of Concord.

The annual report of the executive committee of Christian education and ministerial relief will show that during the year a total of $697,561 was added to the followment fund for ministerial relief and $29,700 to the life annuity funds for this cause, bringing this endowment fund for the benefit of retired ministers and widows and orphans of ministers of the church to a total of $1,321,010.

To Submit Reports.

The four executive committees of the general assembly will submit reports to this assembly showing that a combined total of $2,866,000 has been received during the year for benevolences of the church and giving credit for the contributions to the work of the Presbyterian progressive program of the church of which Rev. William Fred Galbraith, D. D., of Chattanooga, Tenn., is the secretary.

The "clearing house plan", providing for one executive committee to direct the affairs of the church which was before the assembly last year will be further considered at this assembly.

Other reports to be considered include that on powers and organizations of the assembly's committe on systematic benefience, and stewardship the report on plans to bring Montreal, the summer assembly ground, into closer relationship with the church and the one defining the work of the deacon in the church.

SAFE IS ROBBED ON PRODUCE ROW OF $285 SUNDAY

The safe in the office of McMillan Produce company, 3 Produce row, was robbed of $285 in cash, between noon and 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Checks to the amount of $200 also were in the safe, but were left unmolested.

W. C. McMillan, president of the company, said that everything was intact when he left the office at noon, but that when he returned at 4 o'clock the safe had been opened and closed again.

WOULD PROTECT GAME IN FOREST PRESERVES

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 15.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—The government forest preserves in north Georgia, in the Ozark mountains of Arkansas and in Tennessee, North Carolina and Alabama would abound with game, fish and birds without molestation should a bill which has been presented to the senate by Shields, of Tennessee, and to the house by Gordon Lee, of Georgia, becomes a law.

The bill is offered as an amendment to what is known as the Weeks law and highly penalizes the killing of any animal or fowl, or fishing of any kind in the government areas. When the game and fish become excessive, the state game warden of various states will notify the department of agriculture and the state officials shall then issue permits to hunt and fish therein.

The general intent of the bill is to place game and fish under the same restrictions and protection as those that now abound in the great Yellowstone park. The bill will probably pass.

HIGHWAY DIRECTORS TO MEET THIS WEEK

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 15.—(Special.)—Twenty-five cities and seventy-five towns are expected to be represented at the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Dixie Highway association in Chattanooga, next Thursday and Friday, May 19 and 20. The governors of the ten states traversed by the highway, highway commissioners, good roads advocates, automobile club executives, chambers of commerce officials and others interested in the development of trunk-line automobile highways between the north and south, have been invited to meet with the directors and learn of the progress of this undertaking and the prospects for its early completion.

This meeting will be second in importance only to the famous governors' conference of 1915, when the Dixie Highway association came into existence. President M. M. Allison has declared this an open session, so that all communities along the routes of the Dixie highway may present their problems and get the benefit of co-operation with other sections, through first-hand contact.

Reports will be made of what has been accomplished in the six years the Dixie highway has been building. In some sections where there has been a backward tendency, the directors will consider petitions for relocation through other communities that have progressed with their road construction or are ready to take hold and link up with the sections that are completed.

Invitations have gone forward to Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Florida, from the Dixie Highway association, Chattanooga Automobile club, Chattanooga Chamber of Commerce, Chattanooga Manufacturers' association and other civic organizations of this city.

One outstanding feature of the meeting will be the formal opening of the new Suck Creek road of the Dixie highway for 10 miles out of Chattanooga, to the top of Walden's ridge, penetrating a section of mountain scenery that, it is declared, is not surpassed east of the Rocky mountains.

A little boy, the youngest member of a large family, was taken to see his married sister's new baby.

He seemed more interested in the contents of the baby's basket than in the baby, and, after examining several pretty trifles, picked up a powder puff.

And then one day he woke up—

He had purchased the last lot of cards for his card records at what seemed like a very low price. Being human, he rather prided himself on finding a bargain.

Until—

One day he noticed that his clerk couldn't get through with the day's work. He asked—"Why?"

"I'm working just as hard," she said earnestly, "but I can't handle that last lot of cards very fast. They are uneven and they vary so in size that they aren't easily fingered. They are different weights, too, and stick together—so I lose time."

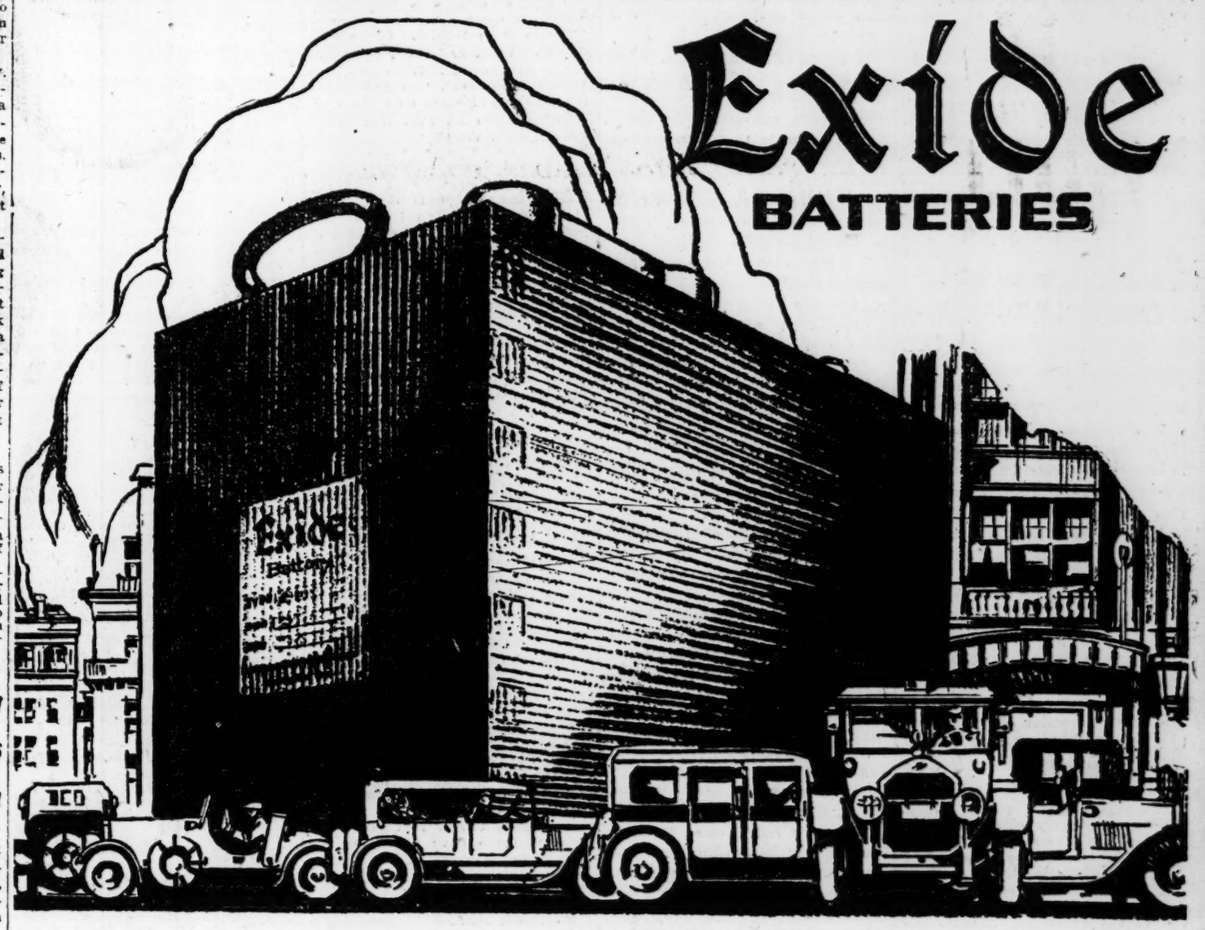

That was all there was to the conversation. But this man-who-thought-he-had-a-bargain did some thinking—and concluded that what he had "saved" in price had cost him ten times as much in wasted minutes.

The moral of the story is this:—Buy good cards—the cards best suited to your own particular purpose.

GENIUS AND WORK.

Sarah Bernhardt's philosophy of life is that it is a good and glorious thing, and it's always springtime in this beautiful garden of a world.

In a London dispatch to The New York Tribune it is stated that she is now playing in "Daniel," to London audiences, though in her 77th year, and that "her charm and deep, dramatic power is today, as ever, a dancing flame of life."

"Life is very good to us," she is quoted as having said, in an interview given to The Tribune's correspondent. "One need never grow old. One can only die once. Why begin to die before one must? Life is always new!"

That is the spirit which has kept her young all these bright and busy years. "Young and beautiful," is the verdict of a world of friends and admirers.

Asked if she hoped to come to America again—

"Her brown eyes sparkled. 'I wish very much to come to America, for I love America for her love and aid of France in the war. I have many friends there and many dear associations and memories. I have received offers from an American producer to go to New York next January, and it is my wish that the arrangements will be made. I am most anxious to go. You know in France we feel that America is very close to us. Your people fought, most gallantly, beside us in the war. Since the war there have been things that were not pleasant, but they have been done by politicians and not by the people."

The life-philosophy of this wonderful woman may be summed up in one word—"Work!"

And her genius not only finds plenty of it in the art to which she has devoted her life, but in other lines—such as sculpture and painting.

There is no danger of such a spirit ever "lagging superfluous" on the stage of human achievement. It is with the world, and one with its work, to the final curtain's fall.

In this connection The Washington Herald quotes Dr. Charles E. Barker, who was health adviser to Mr. Taft, in the white house—

"Folks die from lack of work. They get rusty. They speak gloatingly of how 'I've got a swell job; a snap; I only work four hours a day.' That's why the world is at sixes and sevens today and that's why they peter out at 40, 45 and 50. Be on the job every minute, and then you'll be happy, and happiness is the mysterious tonic that means first place in the century marathon race."

That is from a recent talk before Chicago Rotary club members on "How to Live 100 Years."

Whether that age be attained or not, it's a mighty good world in which to live, and work, and enjoy the beautiful things of life, for a century!

Sarah Bernhardt doesn't even set that limit to her life-work.

And she wouldn't look the limit, should she reach it!

It's the working spirit that keeps the world young—the love of work, whether it be that of the great world-genius, or in the tasks of the humblest toiler who keeps his hearthside bright.

It is, of itself, the great world-reward.

PRODUCE PAYS DEBTS.

Producing, and bringing to market the commodities that pay debts is a way of getting around so-called "hard times."

That is the view of The Thomasville (Ga.) Times-Enterprise, which says that because that plan has been largely followed, that immediate section "has not suffered to any material extent."

"Men with produce," says the Thomasville paper, "have seen the coming of the day, and have realized that the surest and safest way of hastening it is to sell what they can, pay their debts and start out on the new scale."

And it adds that money has been put to work in that way to a marked extent.

It is pointed out that local banks have been as helpful as they could be, and that meeting the banks half-way, in times of financial stringency helps all around: "Men with collaterals settle up, and that makes more money in store for immediate use."

Summing up on this line, The Times-Enterprise says:

"The banks are conservative naturally. They are not going to be liberal to a degree that is hurtful, but no legitimate business is lacking sufficient capital to make it go. It is already improved, judging by a careful analysis, and while it is not going to reach the abnormal scale of the war season, it is going to be good in the same sense, and the same proportion, as it was good before this great boost was given to it, when money was easily made and more easily spent. It's altogether a healthy outlook."

This optimistic view is due to the causes mentioned—the all-around individual business helpfulness of communities, working to keep money in circulation; producing the things that bring in the debt-paying dollars.

THE GIRLS OF TODAY.

Replying, in The Philadelphia Public Ledger, to criticisms of present styles in women's dress, a correspondent of that paper says that, comparing fashions past and present, the verdict is in favor of the girls of today:

"Miss America of today dresses in the most natural simplicity and with more good taste than ever before. The dresses of her past mothers were freaks in comparison. The hoop skirt, the pantalet, the bustle and peekaboo shirtwaist were insane absurdities. And the way they used to dress their hair in the olden times would make an Igorote envious.

"I can't help but smile when I hear some of these forty-year-olds, women and men, gasp at the girls of today. The young must dance and dance their dance, not yours. This is their day, not yours."

There was more "room" in the country in the day of the ample hoopskirt, for instance; bring it back and the most uncompromising of sticklers for old-style fashions would shake their heads in emphatic disapproval.

In trying to get around it, they'd be in danger of colliding with the speeding auto. It was a space-filler which wouldn't work now—not to mention the street-sweeping trains of old, and other "ancient" styles.

But the best word in this defense of modern women's styles in dress is—"The young must dance their dance—not yours. This is their day."

And the writer might have quoted—"The world belongs to those who come the last."

As a general thing, the rules of health are pretty much all on the side of present-day fashions in woman's dress—witness the natural bloom on the cheeks of the girls hurrying to a thousand occupations in the big cities.

There's paint and powder enough—as in former times—but think of the picture of perfect health and beauty one encounters everywhere!

And this must be said of pictures and paintings we have of the lovely old-time girls. Contemplating their beauty, it is no wonder that a poet of their day wrote of one "Before the Mirror," that she—

"Bent as a flower, when Maytime breezes pass,
And kissed her own dear image in the glass!"

We still dream sweet dreams before their fair, framed faces on the walls of home—the girls that were the mothers then, with the braided or plain, unadorned tresses, and the envious high-shielding dress that often veiled their swanlike necks.

One cannot fancy a frown on their beautiful foreheads at the way the girls dress now. Imagine them here again, and under the same style conditions, one wouldn't know them from their great-granddaughters!

They followed Fashion in their girlhood days, and they wouldn't be different now.

They couldn't afford to be!

So, Miss America's word must be law in dress, as it will be when she comes to govern her own family.

For the world is hers, and she is worth the world!

The New York Telegraph says that "enforcing the dry law will cost that city $24,000,000, but that isn't a marker to what it is costing the thirsty to break it."

Einstein's relatively talks are in German, but they're all Greek to three-fourths of every audience he has.

Mr. Edison would have been better off without the free advertising he is getting from his recent questionnaire.

Germany, having signed up, all may be well—unless the allies are confronted with the not-at-home sign on pay day.

I'll want the best o' everything—a cushioned seat an' high—
Growlin' through the world we're still a-goin'!

Bits of New York Life

BY O. O. McINTYRE

New York, May 15.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Early up and to the cobbler's, where I read the public journal while my boot sole was a-mending. A young lady sat next me as fair as ever I saw, albeit she chewed mightily upon wax. Walking, I met Frank Moulan, the play actor, who has grown thin, but still a merry fellow.

Stopped at a place called Mike and Joe's and at a fish, newly catched, and had coffee in a thick cup, which is the only way I like it. Then to F. Ziegfeld's office and watched him awhile selecting pretty ladies for his revue.

Home, where I was saluted with the finest letter ever I got from a poor fellow in prison who has read my poor scrivening for these eight years. And a card, too, from Zoe Beckley, who is in far-away Italy, telling of great bottles of wine for almost a tuppence.

All the late evening working with fair results and casting my accounts made my usual resolve to practice thrift. Then came R. Rohn, the artist, with Mistress Bernice and F. Godwin and his lady, and all to Moret's in Bleecker street to eat raviagli and about the doors a squad of policemen waited to enforce the new prohibition law. And so home and to bed.

This item might well be datelined from Russia—but it happened right in New York. A good friend of mine, who incidentally quit an $18,000 a year job to fight for his country, and who bears two A. E. F. scars, but has no job, was going to his home in a suburb the other afternoon late. Under his arm he carried a package. Near the Grand Central station he was stopped by a policeman and asked to reveal the contents of the package. He refused. He was then escorted through the streets to a station-house, where he again refused, and later refused in the presence of a magistrate, who thereupon ordered the arresting officer to open it. It contained some toys for his children, among them a musical instrument shaped like a bottle.

And the above item will no doubt bring me many letters from friends of prohibition. Let me say in advance that I have for years favored it, and do yet. In fact, I used to argue with bartenders for hours on the subject. But here in New York the people are resenting the un-American way of enforcing it. And it is harmful to the best interests of the new law.

The well-dressed young stenographers who ride from uptown to their desks in the Wall street sections invariably carry a magazine or book to while away the tedium. Reading also makes it possible for them not to be stared out of countenance by the most ungentlemanly crowd of young cuffshooters that ever escaped a policeman's rap. They do not hesitate to address the girls familiarly with such names as "Dearie" and "Sweetie." Strangely enough there has never been a murder on the subway in its history.

The manager of a movie house in Brooklyn had to move the first of May. He scoured the neighborhood for an apartment without results. Then he hit upon a bright idea. Each night he has the following sign thrown on the screen in his theater:

"The person who gets the manager of this theater a 4 or 5-room apartment in this section will be presented with a year's pass to all attractions in this house."

Cotton Mills Hold Export Financing Should Not Subsidize

Editor Constitution: In all the plans being developed by the leading financiers and government officials for financing exports of raw materials, with special reference to cotton, it appears to the writer that the interest of the American manufacturer and his employees are being jeopardized.

Regardless of our sympathy for the cotton producer at this time, we cannot afford to shut our eyes to the fact that exporting the raw material to European mills on favorable credit terms would result in placing these mills in position to undersell American mills in the markets of the world and flood all foreign markets with cheaper goods because of the low labor cost in European spinning centers.

It is the writers's opinion that the plans of the War Finance corporation and other governmental agencies and organizations to aid the cotton farmer by financing export shipments of raw material that these agencies could accomplish the same ends by financing exports of cotton goods, because domestic mills could then buy the surplus staple, increasing their present running time and if necessary put on night shifts.

With soundly financed export orders in hand, American mills could easily double and triple their present production and incidentally their consumption of cotton. Thus, stocks of cotton now in producers' hands would move more rapidly, and if prices obtained for export goods warranted, at higher prices.

Another advantage of financing exports of manufactured goods instead of raw cotton would be that work could be furnished by domestic mills to operatives who are now unemployed or working on reduced schedules. Improvement in many lines of business would follow the increased earnings of these operatives.

Leaving domestic cotton mills out of consideration entirely, saviors of cotton producers by subsidized export of the raw staple should pause to consider the effect cheapening the prices of cotton goods in the world markets will have on the future price of the staple.

P. E. GLENN.
Secretary and Treasurer.
Cotton Manufacturers' Association of Georgia, Atlanta, May 13, 1921.

Today's Talk

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.
(Copyright, 1921, for The Constitution.)

ON JUDGING TOO QUICKLY.

I have nothing but contempt for the mud slinger. There is no place for him in a healthy world.

Several months ago the telegraph wires began to click the story that Charles M. Schwab had been implicated in wrongly receiving a very large sum of money from the United States government through his connection with the building of ships during the world war.

In the first place, President Wilson urged the herculean task upon Mr. Schwab. His name was upon all lips as the man for the job. So as a patriotic man, he accepted it, greatly against his will. He took up his work with characteristic enthusiasm. His salary was to be $1 a year.

Schwab spared neither his strength nor his personal fortune. Ships were built. Results were achieved. The war was won.

But the mud slinger had to come in somehow. Schwab had been dishonest—so the implication was. The newspapers reported this strong man as weeping when he denied the vicious falsehood. The mud slinger only laughed up his sleeve, while millions of people wondered.

The other day in New York City a great company honored Schwab for his services to the country. But misrepresentation, somehow, dies very hard. If the way of the transgressor is exceedingly difficult, I am inclined to believe that the strong man has no easy task as he treads his way forward, either.

It is a great thing to build a character!

Character keeps living. Let us, then, form our judgments of them carefully. Let us believe a man or woman honest until every fact proves otherwise.

And even then let us ask ourselves if we are big and perfect enough to judge.

GREAT GATHERING TO ATTEND FRAT CONVENTION HERE

June 22-25 will witness the gathering in Atlanta of the national fraternity of Alpha Kappa Psi when delegates from all parts of the country will attend the annual convention to be held here on those dates. Convention headquarters will be in the Georgian Terrace hotel.

Raymond Englett, chairman of the local arrangements committee, is in charge of the program, assisted by E. W. Robison, of the Southern Bell Telephone company.

HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

AUTOBOYOGRAPHY—9.

Too Sweet.

There is no doubt that a great many children suffer grave impairments of nutrition because their diet consists too largely of carbohydrates—starchy foods and sweets. This is the tendency toward which all the mollycoddled cakes, white bread, crackers and pastries and cookies lead. Dad and I certainly do not believe that such a diet is advisable for any boy or child.

An excess of starchy foods and sugars in the diet makes a child or boy fat, perhaps, but flabby and anemic and too watery, that is, his tissues retain too much water. He looks white or pale, tires quickly, and usually suffers more or less discomfort called dyspepsia or indigestion.

Piecing predisposes to that condition, because the child with the piecing habit is exceedingly prone to prefer some article which is chiefly starch or sugar, such as cake or cookies or candy, instead of wholesome bread and butter spread with sugar (preferably crude brown sugar, because it has not been robbed of the mineral salts), a meat sandwich or bread and milk, or crackers and milk.

Piecing, in the sense of a regular lunch in mid-forenoon and mid-afternoon, is not a bad habit at all; for young children it is a good habit, provided always that the lunch is a wholesome one.

Let no fond grandmother attempt to credit father and me with the teaching that sugar or candy is preferable in any way to bread and butter or milk or meat or vegetables or fruit, even though ounce for ounce sugar is the more nutritious. All we maintain is that live, active, growing, normal children require a liberal allowance of sugar (as such or in simple candy) with regular meals or as dessert, that this sugar is as easily digested as any food a child can take, that it is quickly available for oxidation to produce energy for the muscles, including the heart muscle, of the active child, and that it is a huge mistake, based upon nothing but prejudice, to withhold sugar from a normal boy or child.

And may we say here again that there is no connection between sugars or candy in the diet and infestation with worms.

Dad and I have gone into this sugar question very conscientiously, I can tell you, and so far as normal boys and children are concerned, we are sold on sugar.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Cause of Locomotor Ataxia.

Please advise me what is the cause of locomotor ataxia. C. R. H.

ANSWER—In about 90 per cent of cases the cause is syphillis PLUS some such factor as prolonged worry or fatigue. Possibly locomotor ataxia may be caused in some cases by other infections than syphillis. It must be clearly understood that in about one-tenth of all cases there is no evidence that the patient has ever had syphilis. It should also be remembered that in at least one-tenth of all cases of syphilis the infection has been innocently acquired.

Migrain Tablets.

Please tell me what the effect of migraine tablets would be if taken to excess, and how many such tablets may be taken each day without doing harm. W. B. F.

ANSWER — All sorts of concoctions in pill, tablet, powder, capsule, cachet and liquid form are exploited for the relief or as a "cure" for migraine, sick headaches, neuralgia, grippe, that tired feeling, fatigue and even "nervousness." The "kick" in nearly every such concoction is the coal tar derivative—acetanilide, phenacetin, antipyrin, or, in other words, acetphenetidin, phenylacetamide, etc.—a drug that benumbs sensation to pain, fatigue or other disagreeable conditions, but at the expense of depression of the heart and destruction of red corpuscles in the blood. There can be no good reason for taking such a remedy every day or every week. The effect of frequent resort to such a drug is disastrous—gradual weakening of the heart, increasing anemia, sometimes rather sudden death, sometimes mental deterioration so great as to require confinement of the victim. It is a deplorable mistake to acquire the acetanilide habit or to depend on any such drug for comfort.

Mistaken Notion of the X-Ray.

I suffer with severe pains in the stomach. It seems that certain foods do not agree with me. I desire to have an X-ray examination made to ascertain exactly what the ailment is and effect a complete cure. Would it be advisable to see a stomach specialist or go to a hospital?

ANSWER—You are likely to be disappointed with the X-ray examination. The X-ray is merely one of the aids a good doctor employs to determine a definite point. It would be unwise to have any kind of X-ray observation made unless by special request of your doctor. Many diseases give no X-ray evidence at all.

The Story the Week Has Told

BY HENRY W. BUNN

A comprehensive summary of every news development of importance in the world during the past seven days; by Constitution leased wire from Washington. Copyright, 1921, for The Atlanta Constitution.

Editor's Note—The following is that part of Mr. Bunn's weekly review of world developments during last week, which it was impossible to transmit over The Constitution leased wire Saturday night, due to the action of the aurora borealis on telegraph service. In the first part of the review, published Sunday morning, Mr. Bunn discussed the new German cabinet, headed by Dr. Wirth, and started a discussion of the situation in Upper Silesia, on which the British and French have expressed views at variance with regard to the rights of the Germans in Upper Silesia, following the plebiscite, under the treaty of Versailles. Mr. Bunn continues with his account of the Upper Silesian situation in the following lines:

Reports from Upper Silesia are cloudy and conflicting. Apparently Korfanty still holds the greater part of the region claimed by the Poles; but the most recent dispatches indicate that the German residents have obtained arms from Breslau and have organized detachments totaling some 20,000 which, under reichswehr officers in Mufti, are not only holding up Korfanty's men, but even counter attacking. One report will have it that Korfanty's men and the interallied commission have agreed to an armistice, to last till the supreme council has spoken, Korfanty to hold what he has now; another reports makes indignant denials of the above; the first report is reaffirmed and again denied with asperity.

The German government, not without show of reason, offers to send reichswehr troops to aid in the defense of the harried Germans; the French government advises Berlin that appearance of reichswehr troops in Upper Silesia would constitute violation of the treaty of Versailles, that Upper Silesia is the allies' dear charge.

"Why not send men to look after the charge?" asks Berlin, again not without show of reason. The men, however, are not sent. Contrary to earlier reports, apparently, no German troops, regular or irregular, have crossed the border. But Breslau seethes with patriotic wrath and ardor; is thronged with Orgesch heroes, einwohnerwehr, students, a strange medley, eager to be let loose on Upper Silesia. It is all very much of a mess, and threatens to be more so. The supreme council has made a sorry showing. As for Korfanty, but for the successes of those other champions of self-determination, D'Annunzio and Zeligovski, one would say he is an ass. I repeat that the supreme council is chiefly responsible for the preposterous situation. Timidity and indecision, being as fatal in politics as in the pursuit of the relics.

Trade Pact Signed.

Berlin and Moscow signed a trade agreement the other day.

Mr. Lloyd-George made a very notable speech to the commons on the Upper Silesian situation on Friday, which contained some very just and some very unjust observations. He asked for fair play for the Germans. "Either the allies ought to insist upon the treaty being respected, or they ought to allow the Germans to do so." As a matter of fact, the allies should have had sufficient troops in Upper Silesia to handle such a situation as the present one, the French, as usual, were the only ones to do their full duty. The French have 10,000 troops, the Italians 3,000, and the British none in the district at present. Mr. Lloyd-George graciously insulted the Warsaw government by intimating that its disavowal of Korfanty's actions is a lie. He has never been fair to Poland.

He would better consult the peace of Europe by sending 10,000 British troops to Poland than by encouraging Germany to invade Upper Silesia. He suggests that the Polish government take forcible action to reject Korfanty. Would it please the Germans to see a Polish army in Upper Silesia? The other day Mr. Lloyd-George said that Poland should be disarmed, and expose her to Russia, I suppose, as he was willing to do last summer. I repeat that Mr. Lloyd-George has always been unjust to Poland, and that he, as much as anybody (being one of the supreme council), is responsible for the present situation in Upper Silesia.

Britain in Suspense.

Great Britain — Britain is once more in suspense, waiting for announcement of the decision taken or to be taken by the executive committees of the Transport Workers' federation, the National Union of Railwaymen, and the Association of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, upon the question of a common strike in sympathy with the miners. For some days now the members of the two unions first named have been under instructions not to handle imported coal. But imported coal has been handled. It has been unloaded from ships by "blackleg" labor, and most railwaymen have not been nice to inquire into its origin and the manner of unloading. A strike order is quite different from instructions not to handle imported coal, but there is a good deal of doubt as to the extent of response to such an order to be expected. Moreover, the unions have not enough funds to finance a long strike. There are other considerations which oppose the idea of a strike. For example, with nearly four millions out of work or on part time, the government will find no trouble in procuring "blackleg" labor.

There is a great deal of distress among the miners, but they show no signs of yielding. Apparently, nothing has been done towards resumption of conferences between the mine owners, the miners' executive committee and the government. If one were to arrange the participators in the controversy in the order of their stupidity, the most stupid at the top, we would find the government topping the rest, next below the miners' executive committee; next the owners, and the miners at the bottom. But there is little to choose. They are all brethren in stupidity. Each day of the coal strike adds 15,000 more men and women to the unemployed ranks. Some 1,200 ships, of a total of some 1,707,000 tons, are laid up at the several ports of the kingdom for lack of coal. In April the value of imports fell off by 90,000,000 pounds, and the value of exports by 160,000,000 pounds.

Rail Probe Started.

United States of America: On May 10, the senate interstate commerce committee began its investigation of the railroad situation. The Young emergency tariff bill, much amended since leaving the house, was passed by the senate on May 11, and has gone to conference. Fifteen thousand paper mill workers are on strike. Plants producing over 50 per cent of the newsprint paper output are closed down. The men refuse to accept a 30 per cent reduction in wages.

The American Federation of Labor is going to fight the proposed sales tax. Senator Kenyon has offered a bill which would create a department of public welfare, under a cabinet officer. The immigration bill, out of conference, goes to the president for approval.

Miscellaneous: An Associated Press report from Riga declares that things are really looking up in Russia in consequence of Lenine's concession. The people have been reconciled and are no longer in a mood for revolt. This, apparently, does not apply to western Siberia, reports from which indicate that the revolts are spreading. General Antaff's revolt, only the other day in the full tide of success in the Tambof area, has been snuffed out. It is reported that Premier Gounaris, of Greece, having visited the Anatolian front, discovered a gloomy prospect for the Greeks.

Agreement Repudiated.

A week ago we are informed that the Turkish nationalist assembly at Angera, yielding to Russian bolshevist persuasions, has repudiated the agreement concerning Cilicia signed in London some weeks ago by representatives of France and the Angora government, and that fighting had broken out again in Cilicia between French and Turks. Now it appears that the assembly has ratified the agreement "with certain reservations," of what nature does not appear. It is pleasing to learn that jobs have been found for Prince Feisal and Prince Zeid, sons of the king of Hedjaz, Prince Zeid is to be governor of Trans' Jordania, apparently in some sort of subordination to Sir Herbert Samuel, high commissioner for Palestine. Prince Feisal is to govern Mesopotania, presumably in subordination to Sir Percy Coxe or somebody else. What title the princes shall boast does not appear. It really was up to Britain to do something for these fine fellows; for they have been treated shabbily. In general, the May-day demonstrations this year were tame. Those in Japan were (except for Jaffa in Palestine) the most lively and significant of all great assemblages. All the large cities passed resolutions demanding the eight-hour day, wide extension of the franchise, unemployment benefits, etc.

There were processions and much flaunting of the red flag adorned with such inscriptions as "From Slavery to Emancipation," "Revolution is Near at Hand." Plebeian songs were sung. A far cry from Japan of Hideyossi and Iycyasu.

WEST PEACHTREE. WIDENING URGED

The project of widening West Peachtrees treet to 80 feet between Baker and Tenth streets and the extension of the white way along the part in question will be presented to council Monday afternoon in the form of an ordinance. The total frontage to be affected by the proposed widening proposition is about 10,000 linear feet, on both sides, and if successful will give to the city a broad, well paved highway leading from the center of the business section to the rapidly developing north side.

It is pointed out by the advocates of the project that this street is the logical and most convenient traffic route, as it is a direct line from Five Points to north side residential district.

In spite of its narrowness, several large business enterprises have located at the Baker street end of West Peachtree, at which place Peachtree curves off and describes a long, elliptical curve, coming back to the direct line of West Peachtree at Pershing point.

Almost all the property owners have given approval to the proposition and have signed deeds conveying the necessary property to the city on condition that it construct the widened street. The sidewalks will also have to be reconstructed to conform to the widened thoroughfare.

All that is necessary now is favorable action by council, and the appropriation of $125,000 necessary to complete a project which will add $5,000,000 to the taxable property of that section. The city of Atlanta will be asked to give one-half and Fulton county the other half of the desired appropriation.

The committee in charge is composed of Frank P. Rice, chairman; Mrs. M. C. Hardin, secretary; J. R. Smith, J. H. Ewing, Walter Candler, James T. Wright, Dr. William Owens and Dr. Vassar Wooley.

JR. O. U. A. M. PLAN DISTRICT MEETING IN DECATUR, MAY 17

The Atlanta district state council of the Junior Order O. U. A. M., will be held in Decatur on May 17. This will be the second district meeting held in this section of the state. The purpose of the meeting is to bring about a closer co-operation among the members, and to acquaint the public with the purposes and aims of the order. It is believed that at this meeting plans will be perfected for the establishment of a hospital in Atlanta under the name of the Junior Order O. U. A. M. and D. of A.

It is planned that the business of the council be completed during the forenoon. At 11:30 the session will adjourn, and a big basket dinner and barbecue be held. Immediately after the dinner there will be a parade through the principal streets, headed by the newly-organized Junior Order drum and bugle corps.

The parade will terminate at the courthouse, where talks will be made to the public. Addresses will be given by Carl E. Hutcheson, of the board of education; Judge O. H. Puckett, state treasurer, and Rev. John W. Ham, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle in Atlanta.

Members of the Decatur council No. 39, and the citizens of that town are planning to make the occasion a gala day for Decatur.

MEET TO DISCUSS PINK BOLL WORM

Department of Agriculture Calls Conference to Plan Fight on New Cotton Pest.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 15.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—The pink boll worm, now threatening the cotton industry of America, is going to have a difficult time living in this country, if the most determined opposition, backed by money, can do anything to discourage the attentions of an unwelcome guest. Just what tactics are to be employed against this destructive pest have not been settled definitely, but the plan of campaign will be discussed thoroughly in a conference called by the United States department of agriculture, to begin at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the auditorium of the national museum. This conference will be attended by persons commercially in the cotton industry, and by federal and state officials and specialists whose duty it will be to eradicate the worm, if possible, and prevent any more of the family from entering at the borders.

The pink boll worm came into the United States from Mexico in the autumn of 1917, appearing first in Texas. The federal government already has spent about $2,000,000 to drive it out, but unfortunately the Texas autorists failed to provide quarantine and control restrictions which the scientists of the United States department of agriculture believed absolutely necessary. The pink boll worm has now a limited foothold in five areas in Texas, two in Louisiana, and two in New Mexico.

Situation Serious.

The seriousness of the situation is recognized by experts, who declare that, basing their estimates upon the destruction the worm has done in recent years in Egypt, Brazil, Hawaii and Mexico, failure to control the pest in this country undoubtedly would mean an annual loss of 20 to 40 per cent of the cotton crop in the United States or a money loss of several hundred million dollars a year.

This estimate has been supported, and even exceeded, recently, in the report of a commission appointed by Former Governor Hobby, of Texas, whose members investigated the ravages of the worm in the great cotton growing region of Laguna, Mexico. The loss to the crop in that region in 1920 was approximately 50 per cent, and the destruction has been increasing gradually since the worm began its work about ten years ago. Considering climatic conditions in the two adjoining countries the commission didn't believe the damage in Texas or in other parts of the south would be less severe.

Native of India.

The pink boll worm is a native of India. It was carried from there to Egypt in 1906 and 1907 in shipments of unginned cotton, and since then has been scattered to most of the cotton producing countries of the world through the agency of Egyptian cotton seed. As soon as its occurrence in Mexico became known, in 1916, the United States department of agriculture obtained a special appropriation of $50,000 from congress to protect Texas and other states from the entry of the insect.

Following the discovery in 1917 of its presence in Texas there have been several appropriations annually to continue the work of preventing further entry from Mexico and to eradicate the pest in Texas and other states, amounting in all to $2,500,000, of which $554,840 is available for the coming fiscal year.

The conference beginning Monday morning in the national museum will have before it a map showing all infested areas thus far detected by the department's agents, and will consider, among other things, the possibility of exterminating the pest and quarantine measures which will check, as definitely as possible, its spread from the invaded states to other cotton growing areas.

GEORGIA MAY GET SUPPLY OF SHAD FROM GOVERNMENT

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON,
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 15.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—The scarcity of shad in Georgia streams at this time make it impracticable for the government to establish a fish cultural station for shad frey, according to Commissioner Smith, of the bureau of fisheries, in a statement issued yesterday.

The bureau points to a rapid decrease in the state in shad and says it now looks impossible to favorably consider the request of Senator Harris that shad be furnished or a station started for shad eggs. Citizens residing in south Georgia on the Altamaha river have requested a government supply of shad.

BRENAU GIRLS READY FOR COMMENCEMENT

The forty-third annual commencement of Brenau college conservatory will open on Friday, May 27, at 8:30 o'clock with a play by the senior class of the school of oratory.

On Saturday the art exhibition, the exhibition of the home economics, the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the college and the alumnae meeting will be the features. In the evening the annual alumnae dinner will be given, followed by a reception.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered on Sunday by Rev. W. P. King, editor of the Wesleyan Christian Advocate, and in the afternoon a sacred concert will be given by the choral class of some 150 girls. Vesper services at the Y. W. C. A. will close the day's program.

On Monday at 11 o'clock the annual address will be delivered before the Phi Beta Sigma society. In the afternoon the president's reception will be held.

The grand concert will be given on Monday evening in the auditorium. The climax of the commencement program comes Tuesday, when the annual address to the graduating class will be delivered, the seniors will receive their diplomas and degrees will be awarded.

The young ladies who make up the senior class for the year of 1921 are as follows:

Misses Sibyl Johnson, Statesboro, Ga.; Eula Peterson, Vidalia, Ga.; Edna Bradley, Abbeville, S. # BILLS TO AFFECT HUNDREDS IN U. S. WORK IN GEORGIA

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON,
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 15.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—The hearing which will begin next Tuesday, May 17, before the senate and house committees on civil service on the various bills to reclassify some 250,000 government positions and revise the government wage scale, will affect hundreds of government employees in Georgia.

There is a prevailing impression that these bills affect only the government employees in Washington. As a matter of fact, three-fourths of the 250,000 employees affected are in the field, in such services as immigration, customs, steamboat inspection, internal revenue, light house, navy yards, arsenals, public health, coast guard, weather bureau, forestry, fisheries and agricultural stations, Indian schools, reclamation work, custodial forces of public buildings, etc. The National Federation of Federal Employees, which is vitally interested in this legislation, has 240 local branches, with members in every state.

LOCAL BOOSTERS FOR GOOD ROADS BUSY THIS WEEK

Atlanta good road boosters will be abroad in the land this week. T. G. Woolford, W. Tom Winn, W. L. Mathers and Howard See, of the Georgia State Automobile association, will go to Chattanooga Thursday to meet with the executive committee of the Dixie Highway association to help celebrate the opening of the Suck Creek Gap division of that highway on Friday.

Frank T. Reynolds, of the state Automobile association, will go to Lumber City Wednesday night along with Governor-elect Hardwick, if the latter is well enough, to speak at the barbecue and celebration of the initial ceremonies of the proposed bridge over the Ocmulgee river. Dr. Strahan and W. R. Neel, of the state Highway association, also will be among the speakers.

METHOD OF OBTAINING LOANS IS EXPLAINED

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON,
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 15.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—The War Finance corporation has just issued a circular outlining in a general way the requirements of the corporation in connection with applications for advances to American exporters and American banks, bankers and trust companies for the purpose of assisting in the exportation of domestic products. The circular recites the law under which the corporation is operating and sets forth the procedure that should be followed in making application for advances. It also indicates the papers, documents and other evidence required by the corporation in connection with advances and includes suggested forms of application. Copies of the circular have been forwarded to all the Federal Reserve banks and bankers, exporters, and others in the southeast may secure them upon application to the reserve bank in Atlanta.

FREIGHT RATE NOTE PLACED ON RECORD

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON,
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 15.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—Senator Harris had placed in the Congressional Record yesterday the letter to him from Vice President Green, of the Southern railway, announcing the decision of the carriers not to reduce the freight rates on watermelons. Senator Harris directed attention to the charge that a great part of the price which the consumer pays for melons goes to the commission merchants.

BILL ELIMINATING BUREAUS OFFERED

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 15.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—State market bureaus throughout the south, including the Georgia bureau, of which L. B. Jackson is director, are nervously exercised over a bill just introduced by Representative J. A. Coway, of Arkansas, "to establish marketing departments in agricultural colleges in the several states," the enactment of which would automatically put the present state bureaus out of business.

The J. A. Coway bill is an old measure reintroduced from year to year. The bill provides for the establishment of a "marketing department" in each state agricultural college," to diffuse among the people full and practical information on subjects relating to marketing and distribution of all farm and garden products," and carries an appropriation of $350,000, to be apportioned to states as a "state aid" for this work, the states continuing their respective present appropriations for their "state market bureaus" these states' appropriations to be applied to the new order of things. The bill also provides that the secretary of agriculture shall supply the "instructors," etc., this latter provision being especially objectionable.

CLOUDS PROMISED FOR ATLANTA TODAY

Showers will prevail Monday in southern and central Georgia, while the northern section will be cloudy, according to the official announcement from Washington Sunday night. This bodes no good for the straw hats and summer wearing apparel, and Georgians are warned to go forth equipped with umbrellas, raincoats and other paraphernalia appropriate to such occasions.

WHAT A WOMAN SHOULD DO WHEN SHE IS WEAK AND NERVOUS

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN HAVE SURPRISINGLY INCREASED THEIR STRENGTH, ENERGY AND ENDURANCE IN TWO WEEKS' TIME BY THIS SIMPLE EXPERIMENT.

On account of the terrible weakness, nervousness and alarming symptoms, which are often produced by iron starvation of the blood, the sufferer frequently never suspects the real cause of her trouble, but thinks she has some other ailment. As a result of iron starvation. You may suffer from headaches, dizziness, shortness of breath or heart palpitation, pains across the back, loss of memory, weak will-power, melancholy or the "blues," disturbed digestion, loss of apetite, sleepless nights, night sweats and so on. In such cases do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration but eat more spinach and green vegetables and take organic iron like Nuxated Iron with them for a while and see what a difference it makes. But be sure the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic iron which people usually take. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron, while organic iron like Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. Beware of substitutes. Look for the name "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. For sale by all druggists.—(adv.)

A Hint to Husbands About Sterling Silver

The possession of silver has always been a mark of wealth and distinction.

In the well-appointed home Sterling silver adds a delicate touch of refinement and good taste and creates a nicely veiled impression of comfort and assured position that can be obtained in no other way.

The Englishman is as fond of his "family silver" as he is of his beef and beer.

In every home there are pieces—heirlooms, possibly—prized beyond every other possession.

Every family should gradually acquire "a set of silver." It would be wise to select some good pattern and buy a single piece, a set or combination of the same pattern, on anniversaries, Christmas, birthdays, or on other gift occasions.

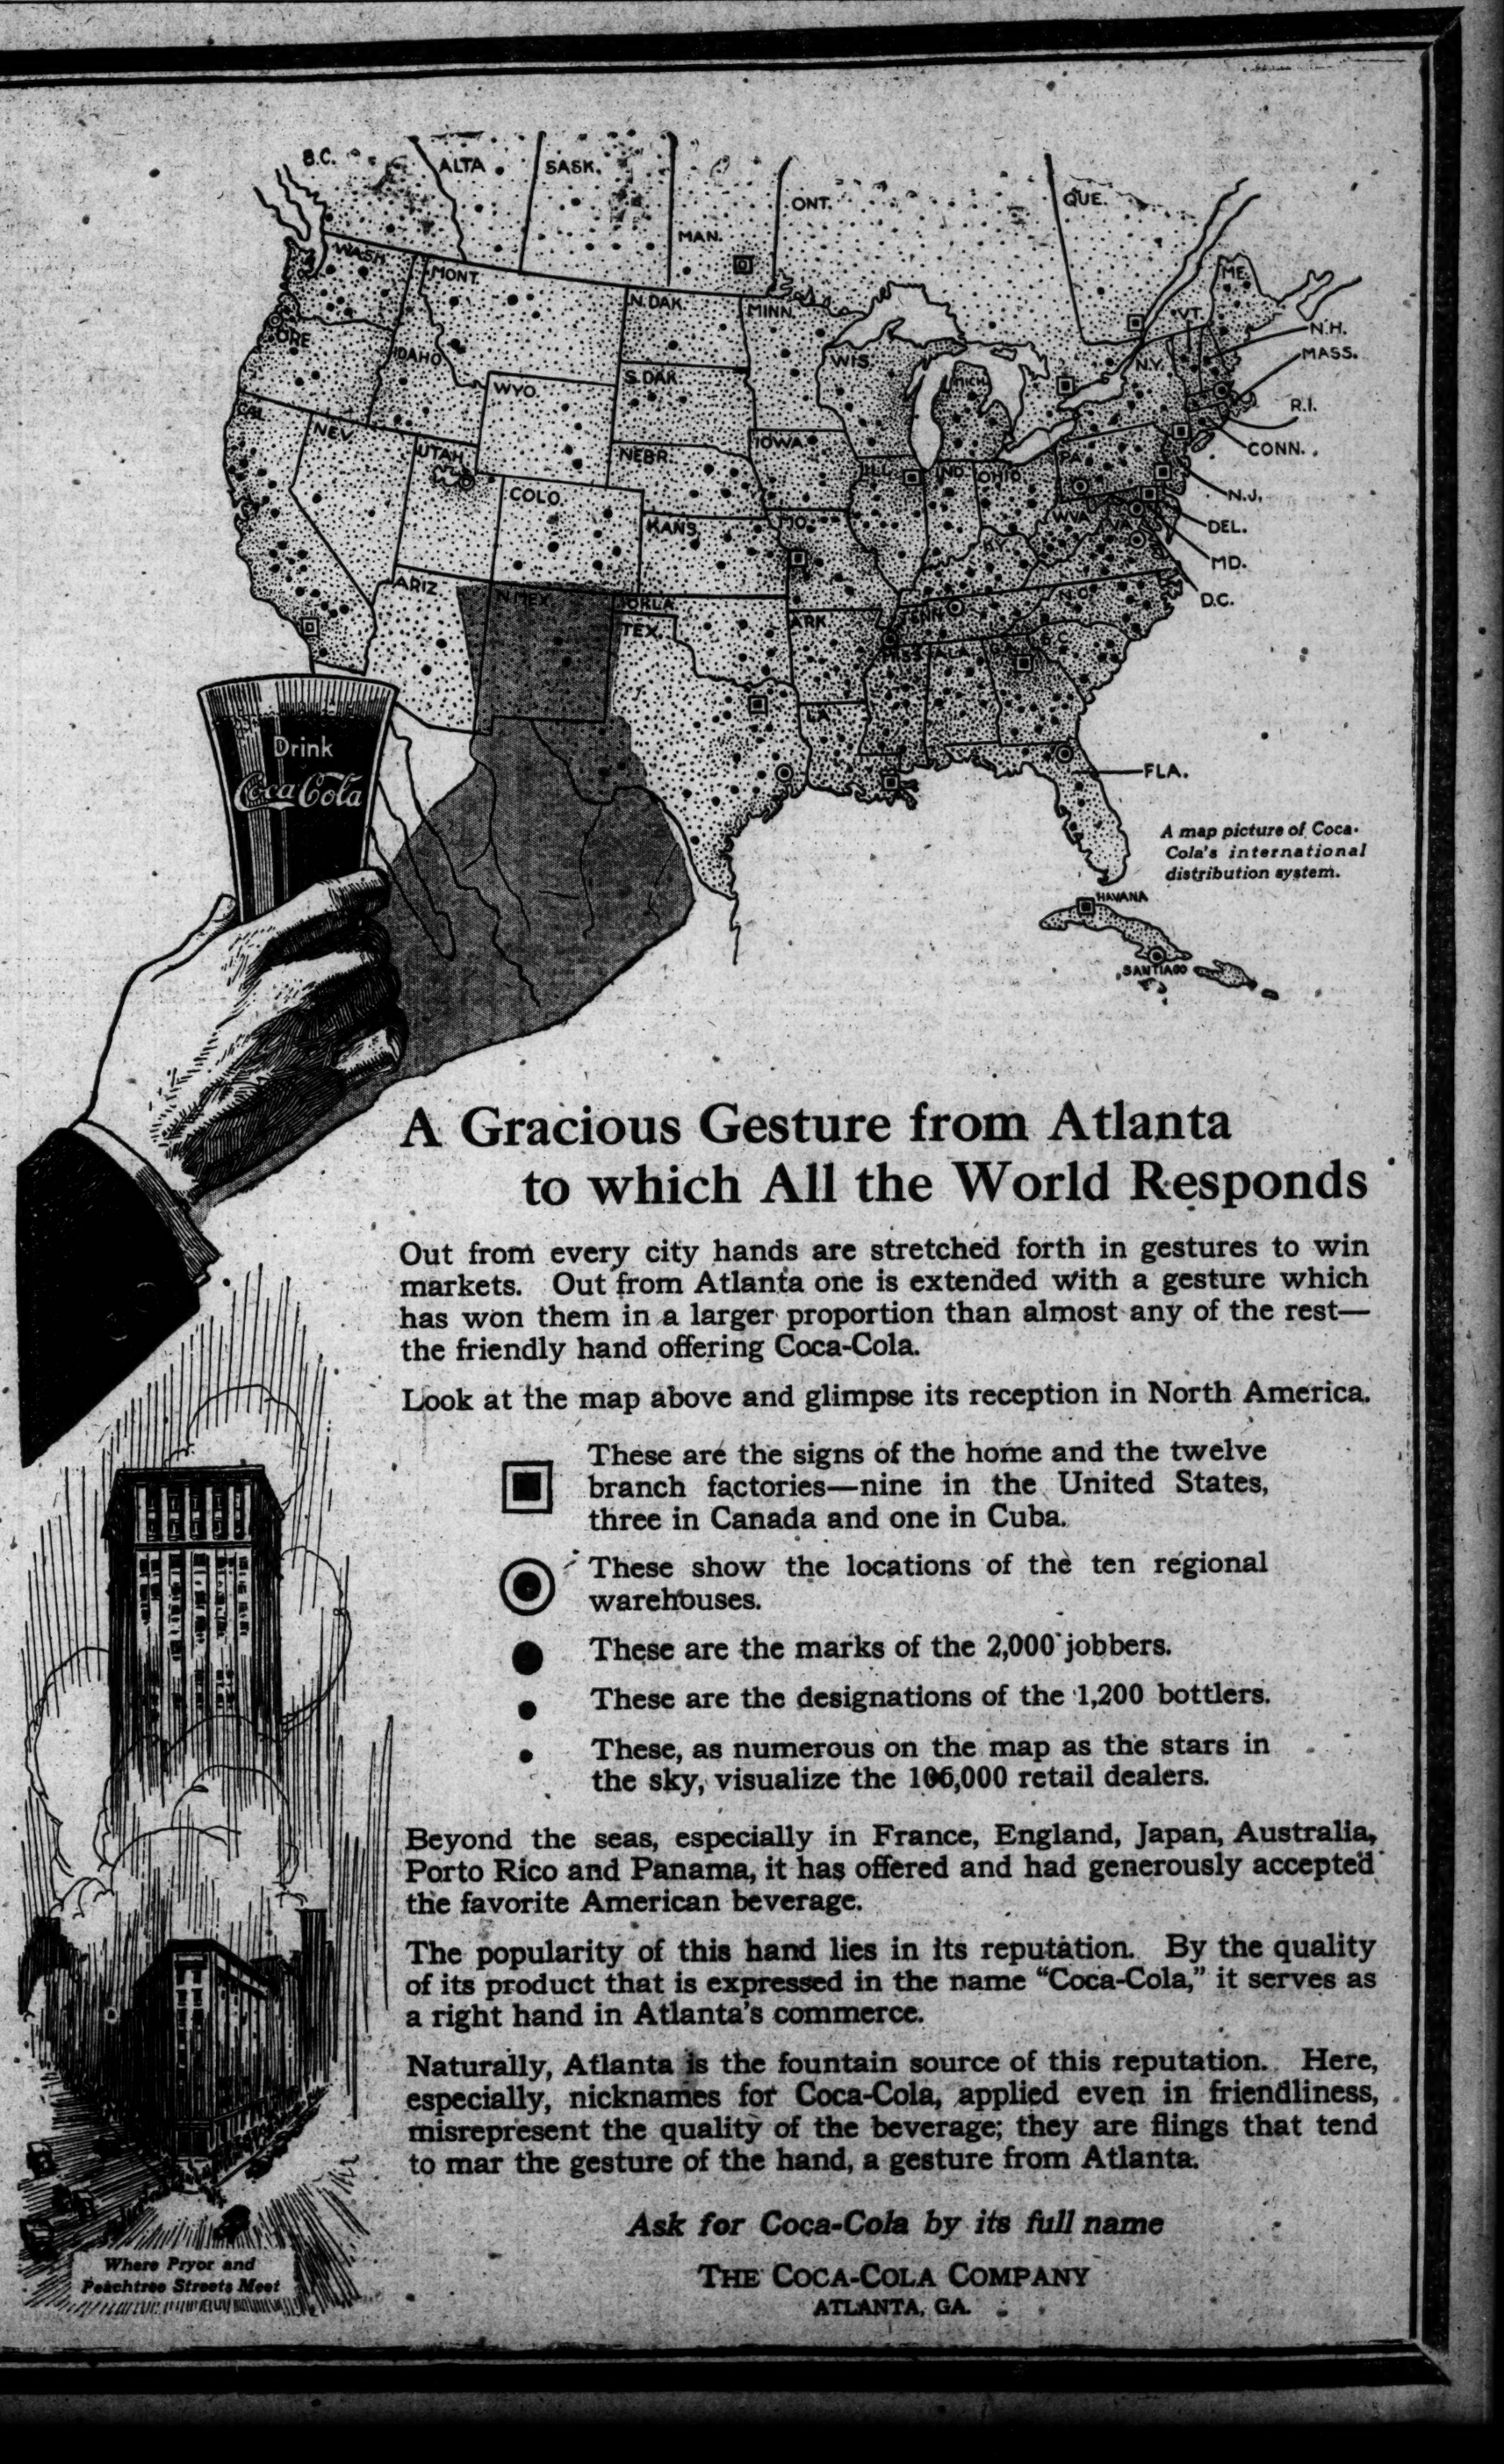

In this way you can acquire "a set of silver" without feeling the outlay.

Call and see our many patterns, or write for twenty-sixth annual catalogue.

We are silver specialists.

A Gracious Gesture from Atlanta to which All the World Responds

Out from every city hands are stretched forth in gestures to win markets. Out from Atlanta one is extended with a gesture which has won them in a larger proportion than almost any of the rest—the friendly hand offering Coca-Cola.

Look at the map above and glimpse its reception in North America.

These are the signs of the home and the twelve branch factories—nine in the United States, three in Canada and one in Cuba.

These show the locations of the ten regional warehouses.

These are the marks of the 2,000 jobbers.

These are the designations of the 1,200 bottlers.

These, as numerous on the map as the stars in the sky, visualize the 106,000 retail dealers.

Beyond the seas, especially in France, England, Japan, Australia, Porto Rico and Panama, it has offered and had generously accepted the favorite American beverage.

The popularity of this hand lies in its reputation. By the quality of its product that is expressed in the name "Coca-Cola," it serves as a right hand in Atlanta's commerce.

Naturally, Atlanta is the fountain source of this reputation. Here, especially, nicknames for Coca-Cola, applied even in friendliness, misrepresent the quality of the beverage; they are flings that tend to mar the gesture of the hand, a gesture from Atlanta.

Crackers Jump on Chickasaws And Win in First of Series

Phil Bedgood Hurls Atlanta to Victory, After Pierson Is Knocked Out in Third Inning.

Memphis, Tenn., May 15.—(Special.)—Phil Bedgood oozed his long and languid frame in between the Chickasaws and further pennant progress this afternoon. Mr. Bedgood got there late but he got there in time and at that his presence was quite a factor in the Crackers' 6 to 4 victory over the Chickasaws.

Up to the time of Mr. Bedgood's arrival the Chicks were amusing themselves and some 8,000 fans by swatting to various directions the left-handed delivery of one Bill Pierson, but when Mr. Bedgood arrived the swatting stopped as far as the Chicks were concerned, but the Crackers kept on swatting. It checked the Chicks after winning six straight games and incidentally checked Hugo Boyd, the Chick pitcher who has turned in four straight victories.

This is how it happened. The Chicks got off to a one-run lead in the first inning by virtue of a pair of bases on balls, a hit and a sacrifice fly. The Chicks scored another in the second on a single by Williams, a double by Yockey and a single by Dowie.

The Crackers started scoring in the fourth and scored four, by some wide awake ball playing while the Chicks were taking a nap. Stow, first up, walked, Ritter grounded to McMillan and Mc's anxiety to make a double play gave safely to both; Smith grounded to the pitcher and reached first safely. Bases loaded, Wingo forced Smith but Stow scored on the out. Kauffman struck out. Sammy Mayer then doubled into the crowd and Ritter and Wingo scored. Graff followed with another double into the crowd and Mayer scored.

The Chicks tied it in the third. With one out Camp walked and went to second when McLarry singled. Williams doubled scoring Camp, putting McLarry on third and Pierson on the bench. Mr. Bedgood here entered. Yockey flied out to Smith and McLarry scored on the out, but that was the last score the Chicks made.

Mr. Bedgood was very good and allowed only one hit which came in the fourth. However, Mr. Bedgood's aim grew very bad in the ninth and after walking Dowie and Hungling with one out Johnny Suggs took up the job and retired High and McMillan.

The Crackers undid the tie in the seventh when Ritter, first up, was hit by a pitched ball. Smith sacrificed and Wingo walked. Kauffman flied out, but Mayer singled scoring Ritter with the run that would have won but in the eighth the Crackers scored again when Graff singled, Schmidt sacrificed, Bedgood singled, and Stow squeezed Graff in for number six.

The Crackers were entitled to the victory. They out-hit, out-fielded and outran the Chicks on the bases.

First-Frame Lead Wins.

Brooklyn, May 15.—St. Louis bunched three singles, two doubles and a home run off Smith, Cadore and Bailey in the first inning today, gaining a six-run lead that enabled them to defeat Brooklyn, 10 to 6. Bailey, recently claimed by Brooklyn by waiver, made his debut, but was taken out for a pinch hitter in the eighth, and Miljus finished the game.

PITT IS OFF ON INVASION

Pittsburg, Pa., May 15.—(Special.) University of Pittsburg's baseball varsity invades eastern territory this week, meeting Yale at New Haven Wednesday, Rhode Island State at Kingston Thursday, Holy Cross at Worcester Friday and Brown at Providence Saturday. The team is coached by Dick Harley, former big leaguer and is playing a fast brand of baseball. While the competition will be the best in the country, Panther rooters are hopeful of getting at least an even break on the trip.

Harley has three dependable twirlers in Captain Barrett, Townsend and Bloom, with Noble untried from last year's freshman team. Barrett is pitching his last year for Pitt, as he is a senior. He is a right-hander. Townsend, Bloom and Noble are also right-handers. Townsend, who pitched and won his first game against the strong Bethany college outfit, is a left-hand flinger. This is his first year on the varsity.

"Red" Sapper is doing well back of the bat and is hitting at a .600 clip. Clawson, basketball center, is first baseman, "Speedo" Laughan second base, Tom Davies shortstop and Cooper or Winterburn third. Davies is leading the team in batting, with an average of around .700. He is a great a star in baseball as he is in football. The outfield is well taken care of by Holleran in middle, Cook in left and Barber in right. All three are consistent hitters.

The Pitt freshman baseball team is also having a very successful season, a high spot being a 2 to 1 victory over the State college freshmen on their grounds last week, which went thirteen innings. Captain "Lefty" Hill twirled the game and fanned twenty batsmen. Culver Military academy, Kiski, Indiana Normal and other strong teams are on the schedule.

The varsity track team competed in a dual meet with the Annapolis midshipmen yesterday, and next Saturday the fifteenth annual intercollegiate and interscholastic track and field meet is held at Schenley oval. Penn State, W. & J., West Virginia and other colleges will be in the collegiate class, competing against Pitt. About fifty high schools will send teams to this track classic. The university athletic council is giving fine medals to the winners.

Coach T. W. Stephens' varsity tennis outfit is making a good showing, although handicapped by Shaw, No. 1 man, and Schmertz, a regular, being declared ineligible by the faculty. A schedule of about twelve matches with western Pennsylvania colleges is being played.

American League

New York in Lead.

Cleveland, May 15.—New York went into first place today when it won from Cleveland 8 to 2, its second consecutive victory over the Indians and the latter club's fourth successive defeat. Coveleskie was driven from the box in three innings. Babe Ruth failed to make a hit, drawing two passes.

The largest crowd of the season, 28,000, was present.

T. Beuther and Freddie Boorde Are Ready for Tonight's Bout

Louisville Lad Reaches Atlanta Sunday and Announces That He Will Lick Local Boy.

TONIGHT'S FIGHTS
Freddie Boorde vs. Tommy Beuther, ten rounds.
Kid Karst vs. Tugboat Wilson, ten rounds.
Tim O'Dowd vs. Kal Kane, six rounds.
Time—8:30. Referee—Bill Kaliska. Place—Business Men's A. C., Forsyth and Hunter streets.

If Matchmaker Walk Miller is correct in his prediction, tonight's glove-swinging at the new club will outshine either of the two previous cards, from the standpoint of rough-and-tumble fighting and excitement.

Walk allows that the Karst-Wilson bout will be the next thing to actual murder, and declares he has picked a real, slam-bang opponent for Boorde in the main event.

Tommy Beuther, who disputes Freddie's claim to the southern featherweight honors, hails from from Louisville, and is one of the most aggressive, fearless 128-pounders in the game, according to Miller, and also Jack Byrne, the well-known Kentucky fight manager, who arrived here Sunday with his protege.

Upon reaching here, Manager Byrne deposited in the hands of a local sporting writer $200, to be wagered against Billy Lotz's $200, the latter having a standing offer of that amount to bet that his warrior can whip any featherweight in the south.

Never Defeated.

Beuther is the Kentucky phenom who has whipped every man that could be brought to Louisville for him, and has won ninety-five professional bouts in his career, against two draws and no defeats.

The winner gets a right in Madison Square Garden soon with Bud Riley, Leo P. Flynn's 128-pounder.

Boorde must make 128 pounds today at 3 o'clock for Beuther. The latter will also scale 128 at the same hour. He is a rugged-looking young man, and there can be no mistake concerning his fighting ability.

Kid Karst has worked hard during the past week in preparation for Tugboat Wilson tonight—a "dark horse" sponsored by J. Hume McDonald. Wilson is from New Orleans, where he has been in the camp of Happy Littleton, the Pelican City slasher.

Two corking preliminaries of six rounds each will lift the lid.

Ladies need no tickets, but gentlemen can purchase theirs at Chess' place, the Rex and Majestic billiard parlors and the box office of the club, at the corner of Forsyth and Hunter streets.

Bill Kaliska, assistant coach of the Oglethorpe football team, will referee these mills.

RACE ENTRY LIST CLOSES

Indianapolis, May 15.—(Special.) The entry gate for the international 500-mile race to be held at the Indianapolis Motor speedway has been closed with 25 of the crack drivers of two continents signed to travel the long jaunt over the bricks of the historic Hoosier oval for the largest racing purse ever hung up, approximating $100,000.

Drivers have been named for 23 of the speed creations, but the entrants of two have cautiously withheld the pilot's names. Five of the drivers are braving the briney deep to get a chance at the fame and fortune incident to victory in the international race and six overseas cars will compete with the best of American racing productions.

Six of the drivers named have never competed in an event at Indianapolis, but all of them have established records on road courses or other speedways. All of them will be among the first to hit the bricks of the difficult Hoosier track to practice, while the old timers who have coursed the track lap after lap will devote more time to the preparation of the mounts and general conditioning of themselves.

The Italian flag will fly over the garage of DePalma and Resta, both having been born in Italy, while the tricolor of France will wave over the large French colony composed of Andre Boillot, Rene Thomas, Albert Guyot, Jean Chassagne and their large corps of assistants. Foreign cars entered in the race are Sunbeams, English; Peugeot, Talbot-Darracq and Ballot, French, with the other cars all made in America.

In the race there will be five strong teams composed of two or more cars with at least four lone wolves, prominent among them, Ralph DePalma. The advance seat sale indicates that the largest crowd that ever attended a sporting event will again be present at starting time Decoration day. The largest crowd that ever saw a race was last year, when more than 125,000 people watched the late Gaston Chevrolet win the Indianapolis event.

L. S. U. WINS S. I. A. A. MEET

Sewanee, Tenn., May 15. — The Louisiana State university nosed out Mississippi A. and M. and Sewanee in a fast meet yesterday, with a score of 34 5-8. It looked like anybody's meet up to the broad jump, when L. S. U. took first and tied for second.

Five S. I. A. A. records were broken.

Clare, of Kentucky, broke the 120-yard high hurdle record held by Burris, of L. S. U., of 15 4-5 made in 1915 by one-fifth of a second. Clare also equaled his own record of 25 1-5 in he low hurdles.

Howell, of Vanderbilt, set the two-mile record a 9 minues 49 2-5 seconds. His running was a feature of the meet.

Willeford, of Mississippi A. and M., broke the former S. I. A. A. record in the discus, with a throw of 129 feet 8 inches. The old record was 127 feet 6 inches, held by Rice, of L. S. U.

Frey, of L. S. U., beat the broad jump of 22 feet. The javelin record of 144 fee 7 inches was broken by Butler, of L. S. U., with a throw of 176 feet 4 1-2 inches.

Big Skidmore, of Sewanee, tossed the shot 42 feet 1 7-8 inches, establishing another S. I. A. A. record.

Vanderbilt led the field in the relay. Although pushed by Sewanee it was by far the most exacting race of the meet.

Summary.

100-Yard Dash—Helm, L. S. U.; Ellis, A. and M.; Ivey, Oglethorpe; Baird, Sewanee. Time, 10:2.

220-Yard Dash—Helm, L. S. U.; Coughlin, Sewanee; Clare, Kentucky; Minor, Sewanee. Time, 22:3.

120-Yard High Hurdles—Clare, Kentucky; Coughlin, Sewanee; Shirley, L. S. U.; Mann, Georgia. Time, 1:3.

200-Yard Low Hurdles — Clare, Kentucky; Coughlin, Sewanee; Ellis, A. and M.; Webb, A. and M. Time, 25:1.

440-Yard Run—Cochrane, A. and M.; Clarke, A. and M.; Kirby, Alabama; Snyder, Kentucky. Time, 50:20.

880-Yard Run — Thornton, Kentucky; Daves, Georgia Tech; Glass, Georgia Tech; Preck, Vanderbilt. Time, 1:59 3-5.

Mile Run—Spencer, A and M.; Kimball, Center; Gentry, Vanderbilt; Montgomery, Tulane. Time, 4:30 2-5.

Two-Mile Run — Howell, Vanderbilt; Irons, Alabama. Time, 9:49 2-5.

Discus—Willeford, A. and M.; Skidmore, Sewanee; Granger, Georgia Tech; Colbert, Clemson. Distance, 129 feet 8 inches.

Broad Jump—Frey, L. S. U.; Ritchie, University of Mississippi, and Kramer, L. S. U., tied for second; Scarboro, Georgia Tech; distance, 22 feet and 7 7-8 inches.

Javelin—Butler, L. S. U.; Thornton, L. S. U.; Thomas, Vanderbilt; Walden, Center; distance, 176 feet and 5 inches.

The Pole Vault.

Pole Vault — Minor, Sewanee; Young, L. S. U., and Welch, Georgia Tech., tied for first; Watlington, Tennessee. Distance, 11 feet and 5 1-2 inches.

Shot Put — Skidmore, Sewanee; Willeford, A. and M.; Gilmore, Clemson, Guerry, Sewanee. Distance, 42 feet and 1 7-8 inches.

High Jump—Shirley, L. S. U., and Ward, Tulane, tied for first place. Ward, Georgia, and Owens, Clemson, tied for second. Distance, 5 feet 9 1-2 inches.

Relay—Team composed of Nance, Runyan, Morrow and Mixon, of Vanderbilt, first; second, Mississippi A. and M., third; Georgia Tech, fourth.

Totals—L. S. U., 34 5-8; Mississippi A. and M., 32; Sewanee, 26 1-3; Kentucky, 16; Vanderbilt, 15; Georgia Tech, 13 5-6; Tulane, 5; Clemson, 4 1-2; Center, 4; Alabama, 3; Oglethorpe, 2; Georgia, 1; Tennessee, 1; University of Mississippi, 2 1-2.

YANKS TAKE LEADERSHIP

New York, May 15.—The New York Americans ousted the Cleveland world's champions from the league leadership today when they downed the Indians for the second successive time. Cleveland, after outclassing its sectional rivals has failed to show any superiority over its eastern visitors. The Indians lost their first series to Washington last week.

The Pittsburg National league leaders, who were successful against Boston and Philadelphia, will be put to a harder test when they start a four-game series Wednesday in Brooklyn and another next Sunday in New York. In the American league Cleveland had its first losing week of the season and today's defeat was the fourth consecutive contest lost by the Indians, the worst slump they have encountered this season. The Indians batted well early last week but let up just at the time their pitchers faltered. Home runs by Ruth figured prominently in New York's western successes.

Boston went into third place today and is only one and a half games behind New York. The Red Sox outplayed Chicago last week but St. Louis is proving a much stronger opponent. The Browns are batting heavily and promise to make Washington and New York extend themselves when they visit St. Louis. The Senators have succumbed twice to Detroit, in contrast to their good play in Cleveland. Chicago's victory today over Philadelphia dropped the Athletics to last place.

National Race.

In the National league the Pittsburg twirlers are doing excellent work but if the Pirates hope to retain their first place position during their tour of the east they will have to increase their scoring power. Chicago profited in its visit to Philadelphia, taking three straight from the Quakers. The Cubs will have opportunity to catch up with the leading teams when they tackle New York in a four-game series starting Wednesday and then go to Brooklyn. The Giants' pitching staff is doing nearly as well as that of the Pirates, while the Brooklyn moundsmen are showing signs of weakening. The superbas boxmen went along smoothly until last Friday.

Cincinnati has failed to convert its hits into runs. St. Louis outplayed by the Giants, pounded the Brooklyn pitchers and the Chicago and Pittsburg batters fattened their averages in Philadelphia.

Petrels and Centre Will Meet At Poncey Park This Afternoon

"Chief" Turk Will Twirl Four Innings Against Kentuckians—Ford Little Slated as Relief Man.

BY JIMMY BURNS.

The Oglethorpe Petrels and the Centre college nine will open a two-game series at Ponce de Leon park this afternoon, starting promptly at 3 o'clock. The Centre team arrived last night from Nashville, where they were trimmed in two games by the Vanderbilt Commodores, but the team from Kentucky is reported as being a strong one, and it is thought that they will give the local collegians a hard fight.

Coach Anderson stated Sunday that he will let "Chief" Turk start today's game, but that he will be replaced by one of the second string twirlers about the fifth inning. Anderson is depending on Turk to win the Tech game Thursday, and he does not care to take chances with his pitching ace. It is thought that Ford Little will act as relief man and that Jake Morris will start Tuesday's contest.

Petrels in Shape.

The Petrels are in fine shape for the game and are out to make it two straight over the visitors. Both of the second string pitchers of the Petrel squad have hit a winning streak, and in their last few games have shown up well. Jake Morris won over the Mississippi Aggies last week, allowing them but four hits. Ford Little is also doing some good pitching.

Today is the first time that the Petrels have played at home since Anderson made the change in his line-up and the Oglethorpe students are anxious to see for themselves how the new combination works. The infield that is to start the game is Ed David, first base; "Hack" Rafele, second base; "Bird" Hope, shortstop; "Battleaxe" Walton, third base.

It will be remembered that the short field was a thorn in the side of the Petrel infield until Coach Anderson took a long chance of plugging it by sending Hope from behind the plate to short. Frank Simpson took over Hope's backstopping duties. The change worked wonders and increased the strength of the team on defense.

Brindel Thaxton and Captain Roy Carlyle will play left and center field, respectively. Both are heavy hitters and their bats have figured prominently in Petrel victories this season. Jake Morris, the pitcher, will play right field, and the day that he twirls Penn Selmon will draw the assignment.

Sluggers' Off Day.

A nickel day for the home-run kings.

Ruth went up five times in Cleveland, but walked in the first and third. In the first he scored. In the third he didn't. Babe fanned in the second. He was easily thrown out at first in the fifth, and again in the eighth. That counts as three times at bat and a batting average of .000.

George Kelly was out at first on an infield tap in the first inning, against the Reds at the Polo grounds. He got a single in the third, fanned in the sixth and flied to right in the eighth.

CARPENTIER TO ARRIVE

New York, May 15.—(United News.)—George Carpentier, heavyweight champion of Europe, is due to arrive here from Europe Monday morning aboard the French liner, La Savoie, to prepare for his battle with Jack Dempsey, which is to be held at Jersey City on July 2, for the world's heavyweight championship.

Carpentier is accompanied by Descamps—he of the hypnotic eye—a crew of handlers, including the boxing chief, one of his chief sparring partners, and a brand new wardrobe that is expected to knock Broadway dizzy. The Frenchman will train for the bout at Manhasset, L. I.

ATLANTA FREIGHT BUREAU DEFEATS RATE COMMITTEE

In a hard-fought game, featured by the speedy pitching of Mizell, the Atlanta Atlanta Freight Tariff Bureau defeated the Southern Freight Rate committee by a score of 5 to 4.

S. F. R. C.'s errors were responsible for most of the runs made by the A. F. T. B. Chalenor, who pitched for the S. F. R. C., deserved a victory, and would have received this verdict if given proper support by his men.

Mizell struck out four men, while Chalenor fanned five. Chalenor walked four men, while Mizell issued no free passes at all.

Glenn knocked a home run, and also did some fine catching.

The line-up:

| A. F. T. B. | S. F. D. C. |
|---|---|
| Powers, rf | Bryan, 2b. |
| Joyner, cf | Ramsey, cf. |
| Haynes, 2b | Mitchell, 3b. |

Umpire, W. H. Paxton.

FOURTEEN COLTS WILL PARADE TO POST TODAY

Baltimore, Md., May 15.—Fourteen 3-year-old colts and fillies will parade to the post tomorrow for the fourteenth running of the Preakness, Pimlico's historic spring feature. Indications tonight are that thousands of persons from other cities will see the big turf event.

A field in keeping with the $40,000 added event will start.

Knock it Out

On the Screen of Sport

by Hugh S. Fullerton

Ball players and managers are arguing heatedly concerning the value of long-distance hitting and its effect upon baseball teams and baseball leagues. The opinions of managers and players seem to be determined largely by whether or not they have long hitters on their teams. The manager with a couple of home run sluggers thinks that long hitting is the greatest thing in the world. The players are divided. The teams with mild, polite batters object to the new era and claim that the long-distance driving is spoiling the game.

There is just one answer to the croakers—and that is, whether it is good or bad baseball, the public likes it. There may be a sharp reaction of sentiment when the fans discover that long-distance hitting is not winning baseball, but even that is doubtful.

The big objection to this new system of slugging is an odd one. It is claimed by some of the managers that it is certain to make one-sided pennant races—not because the chief long-distance hitting teams will win, but that the weak teams will not have a chance. This objection is a confession, implied rather than spoken, that the real baseball is the middle ground, the judicious mixture of real baseball and slugging, with the manager deciding when and how the batters shall hit.

It is baseball history that heavy hitting teams are not winning teams, and that long-hitting teams seldom get in the money. The heaviest hitting team in baseball history—the old Philadelphia team under Ed Delehanty, which had eight .300 hitters in the line-up every day that Al Orth pitched, and some seasons, when Monte Cross was hitting, nine—was lucky to get in the money.

Many of the old-time leaders recognize this fact, and the best of the leaders were advocates of the "just meet it" school of ball playing. They realized that home run hitting compared with the run at a time system is the same as gambling is to legitimate speculation, or playing a 100 to 1 shot is to wagering conservatively on favorites.

Any system is great—when it wins. But old Standing of the Clubs decides the world's series contestants.

We are all interested in the series between the Giants and Brooklyn. I am personally, because I always root for Robby and believe that McGraw has a stronger ball club.

Regardless of the strength of the teams, Robby has been giving the Giants a terrific trimming, winning five out of the first seven games. The Giant alibis may be good, but they scarcely explain the results thus far. When a team has more hitting power, a stronger defensive and all that and then gets outplayed and licked neither "luck" nor any other alibi satisfies the fans.

Admitting that the Giants lacked their full attacking force, and that the moment Young got back into the line-up they started winning, even that does not explain.

The Giants were beaten because they cut out the straight baseball and started trying to slug their way to victory.

They lost two of the first four games in Brooklyn almost entirely because they tried to hit out the games instead of bunting. The other two defeats were due chiefly to breaks of luck, complicated by bad third base coaching.

But those things are part of the game and bad generalship is not. The Giants lost two games because they refused to sacrifice and tried to hit out the games. They came right back and attempted the same tactics on the Polo Grounds. They won one game in the eleventh hour because the attack finally prevailed. They lost another game to the Dodgers in the closing clash because they refused to sacrifice.

In one game they made twelve hits. In seven innings the first batter up reached first. Once they had runners on second and third with one out. Once they had the bases filled with none out, and then had to get a luckily placed long hit to win.

In another game they made ten hits. In six innings the first batter was on base—and they were shut out. Two men hit into double plays trying for sensational long hits.

Bad baseball but good for the league, as every game the Giants lose now makes for a closer race toward the finish.

The limelight is fine—but remember that it shines as brightly on the protruding collarbone as on the rouged cheek.

Stanislaus Zbyszko again is champion wrestler. In spite of the unpopularity of Strangler Ed Lewis, an unpopularity not due to his own faults, but to conditions and the howl against his headlock, the victory of the elder Zbyszko receives a clammy lot of applause.

The veteran of hundreds of matches deserves much better than he has received. His feat in beating Lewis really is one of the most remarkable in the history of athletics. When a man close to fifty and out of condition for two years comes back and wins a championship from such a man as Lewis he deserves credit.

Zbyszko started work last June to recover the championship, and the work he has done is an object lesson to every man. He went up on the Maine coast, secured quarters, stripped off most of the garments of civilization, got into a bathing suit and started preparing. He spent fourteen or more hours a day outdoors, lying almost naked on the beach. He swam. He wrestled lightly. He ate, not what he liked, but the things producing strength and not fat. He slept in the open air, eight hours each night, retiring early and rising early. He got rid of encompassing fat and slowly trained down to perfect condition. In the fall he started real work. He had conserved the strength and built the muscle. Since then he has worked steadily, always with the same idea—to win the championship.

INTEREST IN RACES KEEN

Interest among the speed fans of the city is increasing in the automobile races scheduled for May 21 at Lakewood. The partial list of entries has already been announced, but others are expected to register for the events.

Those who saw the races on April 30 will be interested in knowing that several of the cars and riders who participated in these events will again appear on the race course on this date. The auto races will, of course, head the list, but others will follow to make the occasion both diversified and record-breaking.

The interest in the motorcycle races will rank second to none. Tex Rickard will attempt to smash all previous records, and among those heading the list of entries in this event is Harry Glenn, who will show that he is also capable of handling himself with credit on the two-wheeled affair. Glenn is also slated to appear in the main auto race in a special King.

The races are being given under the auspices of Ararat Grotto lodge for the purpose of raising funds to send delegates to the annual convention in Atlantic City this summer. A feature of the events of the day will be the appearance of the members of this local order in full dress array.

Among the cars entered is a Marmon, Hudson King special and Hupmobile No. 11, driven by Louis Trotzierm, well known in the racing game.

AD MEN TRAIN FOR BIG GAME

Kiwanians and Ad Men will hold their last workouts today and tomorrow before the big game to be staged Thursday afternoon at Ponce de Leon park at 3:30. Tickets for the annual affair are going fast, and a crowd that will surpass last year's 4,000 attendance is anticipated. Ladies representing the Atlanta Childs home have been canvassing the city for the past week and have disposed of several thousand pasteboards, and committees from the Home of the Friendless will take up similar work today. The entire proceeds are going to these two worthy charities.

As was announced Sunday, Nap Rucker, former Brooklyn Dodger, will umpire the game. The services of Rucker were secured through Jim LaFitte, catcher for the Ad club, and himself a former star with the New Orleans Pelicans. The Ad Men held a good workout Saturday on the Marist college diamond. Crowley on first, Bill Wrigley on second, Guy Nichols in the shortfield and "Tomcat" Thomas at the hot corner, made up the infield on the first team. Joe Freitag, who held down shortstop on last year's nine, showed up exceptionally well in the practice and will probably break into the line-up Thursday. Bill Crowley is an old college ball player; Wrigley is a former Marist star; Nichols played on the championship Smyrna team a few years back, and Thomas used to hold a berth with Galveston in the Texas league.

Forces Strengthened.

The forces of the Kiwanians were strengthened last week by the return of Sid Gardner, who was one of the stars of the 1920 team. Gardner has been laid up with a bad foot, but is now in shape to take up his old place in the outfield. The Kiwanians are going to devote Tuesday's meeting to disposing of at least a thousand tickets to the game and making sure that every member closes up his business Thursday and journeys out to Poncey. The Ad Men have already announced that they will adjourn in a body from their Thursday meeting to the ball park.

Additional stunts to take place before the game are being planned by the committee in charge. Both clubs are organizing teams to compete in a tug of war which promises to be one of the real features of the afternoon. All the heavyweights in both organizations are looking forward to this event with keen interest.

Editors to Help.

The three sporting editors of the Atlanta newspapers have promised to settle the championship of the fourth estate Thursday by meeting in a golf driving contest. The scribes will tee up on the home plate and strike out in the general direction of East Lake. It will be remembered that last year Bobby Jones drove a half dozen balls clean over the center field fence, and the sport editors are confident that they will go and do likewise.

College athletes will furnish one interesting event before the game gets under way when the relay teams of Georgia Tech, Emory and Oglethorpe meet in a race around the bags. Atlanta fans who have marveled at the way Joe Guyon gets down to first will have a chance of seeing twelve speedsters in action. In addition to the above the Yellow Jacket Four, Tech's famed songsters, will be on hand, and the entertainment committee assures the fans that some other features will be provided.

CHANGE GOLF RULE IN WEST

Chicago, May 15.—Directors of the Western Golf association today again revised the much troubled stymie rule, and also reduced the penalty for lost ball and ball out of bounds to loss of distance only in both cases. In the old Scotch rules the penalty for lost ball in match play was loss of the hole, and in medal scoring loss of the distance and one stroke. Under the same rules, a ball driven out of bounds brought loss of distance. An American committee sent to Great Britain a year ago obtained a change to make the penalty for lost ball the same in stroke competitions, as it had been in match, but at the same time the penalty for a ball out of bounds was increased to loss of distance and a stroke.

This was too severe in the opinion of many American players, and the western reduced the punishment to loss of distance only in all cases. The new rule on stymies, which were first abolished by the Western association in 1916, causing some consternation in the golfing world and eventually bringing about a partial abolishment by the United States Golf association last winter, which reads:

"When both balls are on the putting ball nearer the hole, upon the request of either side, shall be lifted or played, at the option of its player."

The change consists in giving the owner of the ball nearer the hole the same option as the player whose ball is away.

YANKEE POLO TEAM MEETS "FREEBOOTERS"

London, May 15.—The American Polo team will meet W. S. Buckmaster's "Freebooters" in their first exhibition game on English soil Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, after the British and American ponies have been paraded for the inspection of a large number of spectators who are expected to throng the field at Hurlingham.

The American line-up will be C. C. Rumsey, Thomas Hitchcock, Watson Webb and Captain Milburn. Commander Wisen, W. S. Buckmaster and the Earl of Rocksavage, with one other, will constitute the British four.

Delay in choosing the British four is causing a whirlwind of criticism, and pessimism is apparent in all sporting circels as a result. The newspapers are hinting that there is considerable friction over the selection. In the meantime, the Americans are practicing daily and rounding into perfect shape.

Alfred Truitt to Erect New Business Building

The above is an architect's drawing of the seven-story building to be erected immediately on West Hunter sereet by Alfred Truitt, well-known Atlanta business man. It is slated to be completed by October 1.

A seven-story building on West Hunter street between Forsyth street and Madison avenue, will be erected immediately by Alfred Truitt, of the Truitt Coal and Iron company, Atlanta, and will be leased to business interests desiring office and floor space.

Mr. Truitt states that it is hoped to have the building completed on or before Octover 1. He points out the advantage of the structure in that it will be located two and a half blocks from the corner of Whitehall and Hunter streets, little more than a block from the Terminal station and the Southern freight terminals and within a short distance of the Central of Georgia and other freight terminals.

The building will be designed to suit big business people, such as manufacturers' agents, life insurance agencies, cotton oil manufacturers, railroads and hundreds of others who are now in office buildings up town. One or more floors will be leased to each tenant on a term of five years or longer and each floor will be divided into private offices for officials and large open area for stenographers and other employes. The building will front on West Hunter street with a wide alley on the side and rear, and the inside wall is planned with a court which will afford light on both sides and at both ends. It will be modernly equipped throughout.

TARIFF AND COSTS BEFORE CONGRESS

Washington, May 15.—Final action on two important pieces of domestic legislation, the emergency tariff and budget system bills, and possible disposal of a measure international in scope, the Knox peace resolution, is the goal set for congress this week by leaders.

Agreement on the tariff and budget bills, both of which are in conference, was regarded as assured by the end of the week, but progress in the house with the peace measure was somewhat in doubt. Republican leaders, however, said it was probable that Germany having accepted the allied reparations terms, the senate peace plan would be taken up in a few days. Sentiment has developed in the house against the Knox plan for repeal of the war resolutions and for substitution of a mere declaration peace.

Phases of the reparations question promise to come up in the senate this week through discussion of the resolutions of Senator LaFollette, republican, Wisconsin, to condemn and inquire into President Harding's designation of personal representatives on the allied councils. Senator LaFollette has in progress of preparation an address on his resolutions but the extent of general debate is in doubt. Several republican senators said to view President Harding's action with disfavor were reported today to be increasingly disinclined to "break with the white house with open criticism of the administration policy."

Navy Money First.

The half million dollar naval appropriation bill has right of way this week in the senate. The disarmament fight hinging on the measure is to be resumed tomorrow but leaders expect a vote on the disarmament conference amendment of Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, and also on the bill itself, before the week-end. The army appropriation bill, also involving disarmament as regards the size of the regular army, is to be reported this week by the senate military committee, and will follow the naval bill on the floor. The senate committee is expected to recommend a standing army of 175,000 men, as against the 150,000 figure voted by the house. The fight against the increase is expected to be waged by the same senate group contending for naval armament reduction.

The house will consider miscellaneous bills tomorrow and receive the large deficiency appropriation bill Tuesday. The house ways and means committee is busy on the permanent tariff bill with prospects that a fortnight's more work will be required before presentation to the house.

Committees Active.

Many committee activities will be continued this week, including resumption Tuesday of the house investigation into the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, and additional investigation beginning tomorrow of railroad conditions by the senate interstate commerce committee. State highway commissioners are to appear tomorrow before the senate postoffice and post roads committee at further hearings on the $200,000,000 good roads bill of Chairman Townsend. The senate and house civil service committees will begin hearings Tuesday on the government employees' salary reclassification bill and the senate and house education committees Wednesday will hear national educational association officers on the Kenyon bill to establish a new department of public welfare. Further hearings on sales tax proposals also are to be held this week by the senate finance committee.

Consideration of bills to restore free tolls privileges in the Panama canal to American shipping has been postponed until after senate disposition of the naval bill.

In both senate and house the agricultural "blocs" are pressing farmers' relief measures. An effort is to be made for early senate consideration of the packer control bill and also the bill passed last week by the house to regulate trading in grain futures. Final action by the senate is expected this week on confirmation of David H. Blair, Winston-Salem, N. C., for internal revenue commissioner. Confirmation has been held up by Senator Johnson, republican, California.

Mystery Flogging In Jacksonville Cause of Arrests

Jacksonville, Fla., May 15.—Five well-known citizens of South Jacksonville, including P. E. Watts, prominent physician, were at liberty tonight on bail of $1,000 each and deputies held warrants for the arrest of sixteen other persons as a result of the flogging of F. E. Chambers, telegraph operator employed by the Florida East Coast railroad at South Jacksonville.

Chambers, who claims to have been twice kidnaped and beaten and ordered to leave South Jacksonville within twenty-four hours, declares he is at a loss to understand why he was mistreated.

The first attack, he told the authorities, occurred the night of May 6, and the second the night of May 11. On the latter date, accompanied by another young man, he was returning to South Jacksonville in his automobile from a country dance, he said, when a score of men held him up, and after stripping, flogged him and struck him on the head with the butts of pistols.

A preliminary hearing for the men arrested has been set for next Friday.

SEVENTH DISTRICT AGGIES DEFEAT MARIETTA NINE

Powder Springs, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—The Seventh District A. & M. school defeated the Marietta nine Saturday afternoon on the school's diamond by the score of 3 to 0. The game was a beautiful pitchers' battle between Morris for Marieta and Hodgson for the aggies.

Saturday's game was the first that Morris has pitched for three years. He should have won his game, but the umpire's breaks were against him and this, coupled with four errors made by the losers, gave the locals the three runs. Alexander, in center for the winners, saved the game in the ninth frame when he made a pretty one-handed catch after a hard run of a ball hit by Catcher Wayne with two men on base. Score by innings:

BIG PLANES TAKE AIR AGAIN TODAY; FORCED TO LAND

Dallas, Texas, May 15.—Flight of two of the three giant bombing planes which were forced down at Love field, near here, by a blinding Texas rain and hailstorm, will be resumed in the morning.

The planes underwent repairs Sunday.

For hours they were buffeted about, at the mercy of the storm. They hopped off Sunday from Kelly field, near San Antonio, for Langley field, Virginia.

The third plane, in charge of Lieutenant G. M. Palmer, was forced down near Waco, and it is not known whether it is in condition to resume its flight.

DUBLIN PLANNING CLEAN-UP WEEK, 16-21

Dublin, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—May 16 to 21 has been designated as "Clean-Up" week in Dublin by the local Kiwanis club. A committee, composed of Kiwanians R. H. Hightower, M. J. Nicholes and L. O. Moseley, was named at a recent meeting of the organization to conduct the campaign.

All civic clubs have joined in the movement, and every effort will be made to get the housewives and property owners of Dublin to add a few touches of paint to their premises and sweep away the trash during this "Clean-Up" week.

A Woman's Idea of Tires

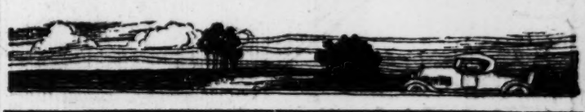

Poor tires are a nuisance.

When I drive the car, I do not want to have to get out in the mud or dust and make a tire change. It is almost an impossible job for me because my car requires 35x4½ tires. If I want to enjoy a drive in the country, it takes me a considerable distance from the facilities of a service station.

Consequently I am very careful about the tires that I buy. I am now using a complete set of Co-operative Rubber & Manufacturing Company tires and it is certainly a great relief to be able to stop worrying about tire trouble. I never have to give them a thought for they never give me the slightest bother. Their cost is reasonable, too.

I think every woman, who drives, should use these tires. They can be purchased at

PROTEST COMMITTEE MAY BE RESTRAINED

Crystal Springs, Miss., May 15.—Members of a special committee recently appointed by a mass meeting held in Jackson to file a protest against the increase in telephone rates granted the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company by the railroad commission, were today served with writs directing them to appear before the federal court at Jackson on May 24 to show cause why they should not be restrained from entering a protest.

A special meeting of the committee has been called in Jackson on Tuesday, May 24, to prepare an answer to the writs served on them today and to arrange to contest the proposed injunction restraining them from taking any action that would interfere with the collection of the increased rates allowed the telephone company.

SHORTER EXERCISES WILL BEGIN FRIDAY

Rome, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Commencement at Shorter college, the forty-fourth in its history, will begin with the presentation of "Twelfth Night" by students on the lawn of the college Friday night. The commencement sermon will be delivered Sunday morning by Rev. Dr. J. E. Sammons, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, and Monday afternoon class day exercises will be held at Maplehurst, the home of President Van Hoose.

Monday evening will be known as students' night, and there will be college songs and yells and a social entertainment. Tuesday morning the graduation exercises will take place and the baccalaureate address will be delivered by Dr. William Russell Owe, of Macon. President Van Hoose will present dipomas to the thirty-four graduates.

The alumnae barbecue will take place Monday afternoon following the gathering of the society to congratulate the graduates. Several states are represented in the list of graduates this year. The year has been probably the most successful in the history of the institution.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL GRADUATION PROGRAM

Athens, Ga., May 15.—(Special.) Commencement exercises at the State Normal school will begin Friday evening, May 27, with a piano recital under the direction of Mrs. Agnes Eberhart. Saturday afternoon will witness the senior class day exercises, which will be held on the campus.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Rev. Samuel J. Cartledge, of Athens, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The annual play will be given Monday night, May 30, under direction of Miss Evelyn Lewis. The play this year will be "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the board of trustees will meet at the school. A concert by the senior class will be given on Tuesday evening, May 31, under direction of Miss Frances Leibing. The baccalaureate address, by Rev. Solon B. Cousins, of Columbus, will be delivered at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning, June 1, and the graduating exercises and delivery of diplomas will occur on the evening of the same day.

The white clover and the hydrangea have a similar floral meaning, as the first reads, "Think of me" and the second, "Remember."

Chinese junks are covered with a varnish which resists hot and cold of fresh water without discoloration.

TIME TO SOLVE RAIL PROBLEM

BY WALTER B. BROWN,
Editor New York Commercial.
(Written for the United News.)

New York, May 15.—By far the most pressing problem of the moment is the readjustment of our transportation system to a workable basis. The Esch-Cummins law, which has been in operation for more than a year, has not proved adequate to meet all the requirements. It was hardly expected that it would be, for it was once again an attempt to make statue law overcome economic law. It might perhaps be better to say that it was an attempt to harmonize the workings of economic law with the requiremens of the moment.

It is no reflection on the Esch-Cummins law that it has not accomplished miracles. It is simply that it could go only a limited distance in dealing with the human factor. This human factor is represented by labor, and it has not been possible all in a moment to deflate labor sufficiently to reduce operating costs to where they belong.

The railroad problem, however, contains many other factors that will have to be straightened out. If railroad rates could be made to rise or fall as easily as the prices of commodities, the task would be greatly simplified. Costs of labor rise, but do not fall easily, while costs of material vary from day to day. Income being fixed as to rate varies only with the volume of traffic, and is therefore most of the time out of line with operating costs.

Burdened by Laws.

The railroas are struggling under the weight of burdens thrust upon them by legislative enactment such as the length of freight trains and full-crew laws which mean the employment of more men than they need, and from recklessly made rules and regulations during the period of government control. It will be a slow process to straighten out these tangles, but it is not beyond our powers to do so.

As to business in general, government agencies are making every effort to facilitate this recovery. The federal reserve banks propose to give preference to loans for all productive purposes whether in field or factory. It may be, and the view is held in some high quarters, that the federal reserve board has maintained too high a tension, and that it now should be relaxed. This does not mean that the board should be censured on that account, for it was far better to err on the side of conservatism than to be struggling to recover blunders that might have shaken our financial structure to its foundations. The board has played safe, which was the wisest course for it to pursue.

The reduction in the discount rate, region by region, has been carefully thought out, with a view to preventing speculation, while at the same time encouraging the expansion of legitimate business. It must be admitted that the time is ripe for speculation for those who are able to take a long-range view of conditions. There is no doubt that many commodities have been overdeflated. Cotton and wool are specific examples, the present prices of which do not represent marketable values so much as absence of demand. Just as soon as there is a renewed demand for raw materials prices will begin to advance. It does not follow that there will be a speculative boom in commodities, because there is a surplus of practically everything, and speculation is usually in expeceation of an advance in prices, such advance being a reflection of relative scarcity. The administration realizes that debts cannot be paid unless there is production, and there cannot be production unless credit is supplied for legitimate purposes with reasonable facility.

Matter of Time.

While it may not be possible to see immediate definite results, the fact remains that there is a constructive program being carried out both here and abroad, and that the actual work of reconstructing and readjusting is moving forward in a definite way. It becemos, therefore, simply a matter of time which calls for a counsel of patience.

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE VISITED BY ATLANTANS

Tuskegee, Ala., May 15.—Headed by J. P. Billups, general passenger agent of the Atlanta and West Point railway, a party of 125 distinguished business and professional men from Atlanta visited the Tuskegee institute this afternoon.

The party reached Tuskegee at 2 o'clock this afternoon on three special passenger coaches and were met at the train and shown through the institute and over the grounds, inspecting the different industrial departments. A feature of the visit was a special program of old-time plantation melodies sung by the Tuskegee institute choir, which proved very entertaining to the party. The program also included a concert by the Tuskegee band. The domestic science class prepared a special supper for the distinguished guests. At the chapel, Dr. R. R. Moton, principal of the institute, delivered a short and appropriate address of welcome to the visitors, which was responded to by Mr. Billups on behalf of the visitors. The party returned to Atlanta tonight.

NEW YORKERS BELIE HARD TIMES TALK IN "PLAYING" CONEY

New York, May 15.—Quarter of a million New Yorkers belied hard times Sunday by "playing" Coney Island from the bathing beaches to the newest roller coaster, spending money like a congressional appropriations committee.

The "rides" are all charging 20 cents this season, but the cars were loaded on every trip; the dance halls were crowded and all the catch-quarter contraptions where people roll balls for Japanese doo-dads had crowds before the counter.

Many people ventured into the surf, although the water was down to 62 degrees, but there were no serious mishaps. Although hundreds of police were watching the crowds, only one arrest for viloation of the state prohibition law was made. The prisoner had a flask on his hip.

BORN WILL ADDRESS FOREIGN TRADE CLUB

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Atlanta Foreign Trade club will be held this evening, following a dinner at the Chamber of Commerce, at 6 o'clock.

John M. Born, who has been closely identified with the rapidly expanding maritime commerce of the southeast, will be speaker of the evening. His subject, treating on ocean shipping, is of much practical interest at this time to Atlanta business men who are preparing either to resume or branch out into foreign markets with the favorable return of world conditions to normal.

It is announced that the club has reopened its charter in order to encourage all local business men who are interested in selling abroad to become members, and the club extends a cordial invitation for them to be present at this session.

The Atlanta Foreign Trade club was organized by a group of men active in the promotion of trade with Latin-America, following the "Plattsburg" School of Pan-American commerce, conducted by the Sothern Commercial congress, under the auspices of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and the Pan-American union.

SHOOTING IN HILL STRUGGLE

Merrimac that they had found an automatic rifle, three other rifles and 1,000 rounds of ammunition in front of a tent colony near there. The troopers reported that the arms and ammunition were thrown from a train.

A. A. Gaujot, a resident of this city, reported to Brockus that as he passed a tent colony at Spriggs he saw an automatic rifle and several suit cases thrown from the train.

Troops Fired On.

A telegraphic report from the captain today from his men at Thacker, W. Va., said the men had been shot at there. The message did not state whether the men had been killed and no cause for the shooting was given. Thacker has been quiet throughout the recent fighting.

Quiet reigned generally through the Williamson strike zone during the night, but many of the mining zones and tent colonies were in absolute darkness. Many citizens took refuge in cellars. Refugees are still swarming into Williamson from beleaguered mining towns to the east. Telephone lines, shot away in the mutual bombardment, have been repaired and communication is fairly well re-established.

Inhabitants Suffer.

Great suffering is reported in some communities, where there is a dire shortage of food and water. Families pent up in their houses have been unable to reach the company stores to make purchases. Although the deed of a young boy who dared a hail of bullets to go to the store for his family, and who escaped although a shower of bullets struck around him, is being related all over the state.

Much of the trouble has been brought about by the eviction of miners from the company's houses. This was the underlying cause of the Hatfield battle in Matewan a year ago, when ten lives were lost.

Bitter feeling was aroused on May 1, this year, when a hundred families were legally evicted. These homeless folks are now quartered in tents here on land leased by the United Mine Workers of America.

The question of wages has not entered into the struggle. The operators refuse to recognize the union, and the union will not cease its activities until it secures recognition.

NO ACTION AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, May 15.—Official silence was maintained here today concerning the situation in Mingo county, West Virginia, and Pike county, Kentucky, and the possibility of issuing proclamations declaring a state of martial law along the interstate border because of the coal strike riots.

The proclamations were prepared late yesterday and signed by President Harding but given to Secretary Weeks to be issued in his discretion should reports from the troubled region make such action necessary. There were no indications tonight that further reports had been received from the governors of the two states to the effect that the situation was beyond their control.

President Harding decided to issue the proclamations immediately upon signing them as a result of conferences yesterday with Secretary Weeks and Senator Sutherland, of West Virginia, but the final step was postponed upon receipt of a telegram from Governor Morrow, of Kentucky, stating that the strike situation looked better and that state trops had been ordered to patrol the Kentucky side of the border.

Orders have been prepared at the war department, however, informing Major-General G. W. Read, commanding the fifth corps area at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., of the president's action and instructing him to hold troops in readiness to move into the disturbed area should proclamations be issued.

TERRORIST PLOT BARED; 43 JAILED

Rome, May 15.—Forty-three communists were jailed here today following the discovery of a terrorist plot of far-reaching effect. A quantity of bombs and arms, hidden by the plotters were seized by the athorities.

Cotton Market Gossip

New Orleans, May 15.—Up to the middle of the week just ended the trend of values in the cotton market was higher, mainly because of the heavy rains in the blet, but after the middle of the week the market developed a sagging tendency, partly on account of liquidation of long contracts and partly because of the unfavorable labor news from England.

On the last session of the week, the disappointing American mill figures from the census bureau, showing consumption during April of only 408,882 bales against 437,933 in March of this year, and 566,914 in April of last, were a selling influence and carried the market off to the lowest levels of the week. At the highest the trading months were 13 to 34 points over the close of the preceding week, with July up to 13.02; at the lowest they were 34 to 45 points under, with July at 12.37. The market moved over a range of 58 to 72 points. In the net results prices lost 31 to 47 points, July closing at 12.40. In the spot department middling stood unchanged at 11.88 in the net results. A year ago middling closed at 40.25.

The weather of the week was accepted as further retarding the start of the new crop, official accounts telling of too much rain over a large part of the belt. Planting and replanting were prevented and in some localities rains were heavy enough to wash out and flood crops so that it was claimed, in some instances, the third planting of the season was lost. Those sections which had cotton up reported slow growth and more or less demage was done by hail storms in the western belt.

Unfavorable weather conditions were balanced to a gerat extent by the unfavorable turn taken by developments connected with the coal strike in Great Britain, the refusal of transport and railway workers to handle imported coal putting a new face on the situation. The lack of fuel among English cotton mills had all the more effect on the market because of the large orders for manufactured goods said to be waiting to be filled. Reports that late in the week mill owners and mill operatives had completely disagreed on the proposed new wage schedule increased the gloomy feeling regarding British labor conditions.

Cotton goods accounts from the markets on this side of the water were regarded as distinctly encouraging and any further improvement this coming week in this direction will be bound to have its effect on the market, although the trade will be forced to pay a great deal of attention to weather conditions over the belt, owing to the nearness of the first monthly report of the season on the new crop. Further rains would cause buying but it seemed to be a rather general idea at the end of last week that a spell of good weather would develop selling pressure of consequence.

SO WEAK SO NERVOUS

How Miserable This Woman Was Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toomsboro, Ga.—"I suffered terribly with backache and headache all the time, was so weak and nervous I didn't know what to do, and could not do my work. My trouble was deficient and irregular periods. I read in the papers what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to give it a trial. I got good results from its use so that I am now able to do my work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. C. F. PHILLIPS, Toomsboro, Ga.

Weak, nervous women make unhappy homes, their condition irritates both husband and children. It has been said that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues," irritability and backache arise from some displacement or derangement of a woman's system. Mrs. Phillips' letter proves that no other remedy is so successful as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Gain in Number Of Failures Seen During Last Week

A check to the declining tendency of failures is noted last week, defaults in the United States numbering 333. This total represents an increase of 21 over the 312 insolvencies of the immediately preceding week, but is slightly less than the number reported to R. G. Dun & Co. three weeks ago. During last week of last year, in sharp contrast, the failures numbered only 107.

Most of the increase in defaults last week, as compared with those of the preceding week, occurred in the west, where there were 18 more insolvencies, and the failures were more numerous by 8 on the Pacific coast. In the south, however, there was practically no change, and a reduction of 6 defaults appears in the east. With the larger total of insolvencies, those for $5,000 or more of liabilities in each instance increased, numbering 185. This compares with 160 such failures the previous week, or 25 more, and is 12 more than the number reported three weeks ago. The proportion of the defaults for $5,000 or more of indebtedness to the total number is also higher at 55.6 per cent, against 51.3 per cent the preceding week and 52.4 per cent three weeks ago. Two weeks ago last year, in the corresponding week, the ratio of such insolvencies was relatively low at 46.7 per cent.

Numbering 27, failures in the Dominion of Canada last week disclose no change from those of the preceding week, and are 5 less than the number of three weeks ago. In this week of 1920, however, there were only 12 Canadian defaults. Of the aggregate number this week, 14 involved $5,000 or more of liabilities in each instance, which is 2 more than occurred two weeks ago.

A fare getting out of a taxi in front of the Lyceum theater, and not having any change to pay the driver, asked an out-of-work actor if he could change a pound note.

"No, sir," said the actor; "but thank you for the compliment."

Strong Downward Trend Continues In Market Prices

The general trend of wholesale commodity prices continues strongly downward, 50 recessions and 38 advances appearing last week in the comprehensive list compiled by Dun's Review. This compares with 42 declines out of a total of 72 changes the preceding week, while in last week last year there were 38 increases and 29 reductions.

Indifference on the part of domestic buyers, a moderate export demand and a favorable official crop report caused a rather sharp reaction in wheat, and the weakness in this grain had a depressing effect on corn, oats and rye. Beef was in fairly active demand and held steady, and both sheep and hogs rose moderately. Provisions were irregular, but the general trend was toward a lower level. Although the supply of fancy-quality butter was not excessive, quotations were easy. Prices of strictly fresh-laid eggs were supported by a good demand. An increased production and a moderate movement into consumption, however, resulted in another decline in cheese.

Following recent reductions, further concessions in iron and steel prices are noted, though some products are maintained at previous levels. No departure from the waiting attitude of buyers is discernible, and the week has been one of the quietest of the year in point of new business. In dry goods markets, on the other hand, the gradual improvement in conditions has continued, and the price situation is firmer. The betterment in the hide trade, moreover, has been extended, and further advances of 1-2 to 1 cent between sales have been recorded. While the leather market remains irregular, there is also rather more steadiness in this quarter.

SHORTAGE OF FRUIT FOR CANNING SEEN

Washington, May 15.—A shortage of fruit for canning is predicted by the department of agriculture.

"Stone fruits"—cherries, plums and peaches—will be scarcest, and there will be a limited supply of apples and grapes.

Prospects for citrous fruits are considered better.

MARCH GASOLINE STOCKS HIT RECORD

Washington, May 15.—Stocks of gasoline during March increased to 713,000,000 gallons, the largest amount on record, according to figures just compiled by the bureau of mines.

Production of gasoline during the month was 165,000 gallons per day greater than during the same month last year. Domestic consumption was larger, but exports decreased.

The average daily consumption of gasoline was 12,716,699 gallons, which is approximately 25 per cent greater than a year ago.

200 Atlanta Boy Scouts To Attend Summer Camp

Plans Being Completed for Opening of Encampment on June 18 Near Gainesville.

More than 200 places have been reserved by scouts from thirty-three different troops under the Atlanta council who will attend Camp Friendly for one or more periods during the camping season. Camp Friendly will open near Gainesville, on June 18, and will be operated continuously until August 13 in four periods of two weeks each. The large registration means that Atlanta scouts are eager to enjoy vacations under the most ideal conditions.

The council camping committee, with R. C. Darby as chairman, is busy completing plans for the big camp and arranging for the very best equipment and supervision possible. Associate Scout Executive Roland L. Shine spent a part of last week in Gainesville perfecting plans for the camp and making arrangements for supplies.

Through efforts of Colonel Sandy Beaver, president of the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce and head of Riverside Military academy, and W. A Carlisle, citizens of Gainesville will remodel and enlarge buildings on the camp grounds without charge to the Atlanta scouts to be used by them as a dining hall. This arrangement is sure to contribute to the attractiveness of the camp and will add to the sanitary plans being worker out in connection with Camp Friendly.

Game in Charge.

Assistant Scoutmaster Paul Game, of troop 19, will be in camp during the first period and will serve as chief of camp instructors.

The advanced guard composed of older scouts will leave Atlanta on June 14 and will set up the large camp in order that everything may be in readiness for the first group of scouts who will arrive June 18, leaving Atlanta on the Southern railway in a special car at noon on that date.

J. N. DUPRE IS DEAD

Succumbs After Acute Attack of Paralysis.

J. N. DuPre died Saturday at 3:15 o'clock at his residence, 42 Hendrix avenue, the direct cause of his death being an acute stroke of paralysis. He had suffered with this trouble for years, but his wonderful constitution enabled him to rally from each attack, and his death came as a shock to his friends.

Mr. DuPre was 74 years of age and had been in the employ of the Southern railway for twenty years. He stood high in the esteem of both employers and fellow workmen, and although not able to do active work for the past five years, he was on the pay roll of the company at the time of his death.

Mr. DuPre was a Confederate veteran and an ardent champion of the lost cause. Born in Charleston, S. C., of old Huguenot parentage, he was an ardent patriot, and he loved to tell of the time when there was rumor of immediate trouble between the states, he smuggled himself aboard a boat bound for Fort Sumter and was present at the firing of the first shot.

Two years later he enlisted, a lad of 15, in the York battalion. He fought through the remainder of the war, and was a prisoner in Virginia when Lee surrendered.

He never tired of recounting these early experiences, and he followed the progress of the recent world war with boyish enthusiasm.

Mr. DuPre was a charter member of the Blacksmiths' union and a staunch Mason, a member of Fulton lodge No. 216, A. & A. M. This fraternity will take charge of the body at the grave.

The funeral will be held from the residence Monday at 3 o'clock.

COLORED AMUSEMENT PARK TO OPEN TODAY

The "Joyland" park for negroes, located on South Pryor street, adjoining Clark university, will be opened with formal ceremony at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Leading citizens, white and colored, will take part in the exercises. Ten thousand people are expected on the opening day.

Red Terror Runs Riot in Britain Over Week End

Rebels Commit Outrages in London and Liverpool and Ireland.

London, May 15.—With an audacity that altogether disarmed the authorities, Irish rebels carried out a series of assassinations and other outrages during the week-end extending over into the quiet, peaceful suburbs of London where the families of some members of the Royal Irish constabulary reside. They struck suddenly in Liverpool, too, and there was another forty-eight hours of terror in Cork and other Irish localities. Raids were made in Battersea, Tooting, Catford, Blackheath, West Kensington and Shepherd's Bush, all suburbs of London. Two men and a woman were shot down on their own thresholds and houses were set on fire by groups of raiders.

At 10 o'clock Saturday night, just as the family of Horace McNeil was about to retire, a group of masked men called him to the door of his home in Shepherd's Bush and demanded to see his son-in-law, a young man named Corney, who has been serving with the Royal Irish constabulary in Ireland. There were a few words of argument and McNeil fell with a revolver bullet, seriously wounded.

Three masked men entered the lodgings of a man named Ashby, a former member of the Royal Irish constabulary, in Saint Albans.

"We know you, Ashby," they said. "You've been an R. I. C."

With that they shot Ashby and his wife, in the heads. Their condition is not serious.

In Black Heath, the wife of an officer of the R. I. C. was called to the door of her home. Her husband is in Ireland. Seeing the masked men, she screamed and thereby saved the situation, for the men turned and fled. An attacking party walked right into a home in Cattford, however, shot a man and woman and escaped. A house was destroyed by an incendiary fire in Tooting, and another attempt at arson in Battersea was unsuccessful.

Fires in Liverpool.

The police and military authorities may have been somewhat disarmed by the expectation that the recent truce would extend through the plebiscite period in Ireland. At any rate, fifty rebels attacked people in their homes and set fire to buildings in widely separated sections of Liverpool and escaped in automobiles.

Cork reports that the Blackpool police station was bombed, Constable Coughlan being killed and three others wounded. Raiders of unidentified sympathies called at the home of an alderman and, not finding him there, shot and seriously wounded Father O'Callaghan, a guest. Sergeant Coleman was shot and killed in East Cork, and shortly afterwards four policemen going for a priest were waylaid and attacked, two being killed. One of the others was wounded. As a separate incident, Patrick Sheehan, a republican, was shot in the heart and killed.

Soldiers Hunt Fugitives.

Machine-gun fire and forays by military raiding parties struck terror into the homes of Youghal, as the soldiers went from house to house, searching for fugitives and firing their pistols. The home of a priest, Father Aherne, was badly damaged.

Constable McKenna stepped outside the barracks at Innishannon and dropped dead from a rebel bullet. A rebel party attacked a detachment of marines in Clonakilty, killing one and wounding several others. Constable Bridges was killed in Limerick.

Inspector Briggs, of the R. I. C., also was shot and killed.

Revolver firing, stone-throwing and general rioting went on all Saturday night in Belfast, several being injured.

WOMAN KILLED FROM AMBUSH.

Belfast, May 15.—Miss Barrington, only daughter of Sir Charles Barrington, of Glenstal Castle, County Limerick, and head of the Masonic order in North Munster, and Police Inspector Biggs were shot dead from ambush Saturday night by civilians, while motoring from Killoscully to Newport, County Tipperary.

The father of the dead woman is a former high sheriff of County Limerick.

Nine policemen, two soldiers and a number of other persons were killed Saturday and today in attacks and counter attacks at various places. Numerous persons were wounded.

Worst Since 1919.

More lives may have been lost in the Macroom ambuscade, when seventeen auxiliaries were killed, or on "Red Sunday," but, for general and organized violence, Saturday and today probably were the worst since shootings on a large scale were inaugurated in January, 1919.

All the casualties except one occurred in the area covered by the southern parliament. The exception was at Dromore, Tyron, where a Sinn Feiner was shot dead.

Miss Barrington was traveling with two other women and Inspector Major Biggs, a military officer, when she was killed. The military officer was wounded.

Attack on Barracks.

Constable Bridges was shot dead and two other constables were wounded while purchasing groceries Saturday at Drumcollagher. A party of police going to their relief was fired upon and two of the policemen were wounded slightly.

Fierce fighting followed an attack on the Bandon police barracks. The military and police swept the streets with machine-gun fire, and the people were obliged to throw themselves upon the ground for safety. At about the same time armed civilians marched through Dunmanway, County Cork. Being followed by auxiliaries in motor lorries, they shot and killed several horses in the streets so as to obstruct the path of their pursuers.

All the roads south and west of Cork have been trenched at many points. The belief prevails that rebels intend to carry out a general attack on military and police barracks.

SINN FEINERS FAIL IN RESCUE EFFORT.

Dublin, May 15.—An unsuccessful attempt was made yesterday morning to rescue Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein organization, from his confinement in Mount Joy prison.

An armored car which had recently been captured was used by the republicans in the attempt to rescue Griffith. A man in an officers' uniform alighted at the prison gates, which opened to admit the passage of the car, and he and his supposed soldier companions in the car drove straight to the governor's office, where the governor and his deputy were bound and gagged.

The visitors proceeded to release Griffith and others of the prisoners and were returning to their car when they encounteed a party of auxiliaries.

This necessitated a change of course on the raiders' part. Meanwhile, a sentry at an elevated point in the prison became suspicious and fired a shot.

Raiders Are Routed.

On hearing this the raiders decamped without the prisoners, but took the armored car, which later was found abandoned.

Arthur Griffith was arrested in Dublin on November 26 last, and lodged in Mount Joy prison. The grounds for his arrest were not given at the time, but it was explained later that it was due to the desire of the government to learn if he was responsible for the alleged employment of republican funds on ambuscades and other operations involving the lives of troops.

The car used in the attempted rescue is reported to have been captured by the Sinn Feiners this morning after a surprise attack in which two of the soldier occupants of the car were wounded. The Sinn Feiners then disguised themselves as members of the crown forces and proceeded to Mount Joy prison.

Fight in Yard.

A fight occurred inside the prison yard, when the armored car was attempting to get out. A sentry was shot in the head by the man in the uniform of an officer and as the car passed through the gate a fusillade was fired from one of its machine guns.

No confirmation could be secured of a report that military forces followed the escaping car, which was abandoned in Howth road. Before decamping, its occupants stripped the car of two Hotchkiss guns and a thousand rounds of ammunition.

It is understood the Sinn Feiners had trouble in operating the car. They left a note in it which said: "This car is no good; we have better ones ourselves." So far as known, only one of the Sinn Feiners was wounded slightly. A lorry filled with soldiers also was taken when the armored car was captured and nine rifles seized from it.

MRS. CUNNINGHAM, LEADING EDUCATOR, PAID LAST HONORS

The funeral services of Mrs. Susy Everhart Cunningham, one of Atlanta's best loved and most talented women, and for many years an educator of note, were held yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at St. Luke's Episcopal church, with Rev. C. B. Wilmer, rector, officiating. Interment was in West View.

Mrs. Cunningham, who was born April 26, 1857, died Saturday at the residence, 587 West Peachtree. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Adelaide Louise Cunningham; one step-daughter, Mrs. M. C. Beall; one son, Everhart Cunningham; four brothers, Dr. Edgar, Lawrence, Henry and Captain Lay H. Everhart, of the navy.

Born in Huntsville, Ala., the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George M. Everhart, founder of Hamner hall, a school for girls, she was surrounded by an atmosphere of religion and culture. Gifted by nature with very unusual powers of heart and soul and mind, she had almost unique advantages of education. After attending school at Kemper hall in Kenosha, Wis., where she graduated in the first rank, she completed her education at the Sorbonne in Paris and at the University of Berlin. On her return to this country, she became instructor of languages, history and English at Kemper hall, and later at Hamner hall, where also she became principal.

In Alabama she was noted not only for work in education, but for her interest and activities in many phases of social and club life and also in civic matters. She was the first woman to ever address the Alabama legislature, which was in advocacy of a child labor bill.

Amongst other accomplishments Mrs. Cunningham was a remarkable linguist, speaking three languages fluently and reading five.

A student of art and literature all her life, she was not only a thinker herself, but was a gifted interpreter of the thoughts of others, reviewing books and translating many French and German novels for the magazines. Hon. Hilary A. Herbert, when secretary of the navy, said of her that he had never met a more brilliant or learned woman.

The word "ball" comes from two different sources. Meaning a globular body, it is derived from the Icelandic bollr; meaning a dance, we obtained it from Latin ballare, to dance.

The town of Peel, in the Isle of Man, has a woman clerk in the person of Miss Lillian Pringle, 19 years old.

ASHLEY WILL ASK CHARTER CHANGES

Events of the past week having convinced Councilman Claude Ashley that reform in the city government is imperative, he will introduce in council this afternoon a charter amendment resolution to remove the mayor and the chairman of the school committee of council from the school board, separating the department entirely from council.

Mr. Ashley will also ask council's approval of a charter amendment making women eligible to serve on the board of education, and will request the enactment of legislation to increase the school department's share of current receipts from the present 22 per cent to approximately 30 per cent, in addition to all non-resident tuition fees, and the city's share of the state school fund which is now collected as a part of the general revenue, although claimed by the board.

Councilman Ashley's plan to cut the schools free of councilmanic control and leave their management in the hands of the five commissioners elected by the people, was crystallized by the action of four commissioners last week—two of whom were Mayor Key and Councilman Sims—in deposing Superintendent W. F. Dykes as head of the school system. He flayed their procedure in a public speech, terming it an "assassination."

Embodied in his resolutions are reforms demanded in resolutions unanimously adopted at an indignation mass meeting held Saturday night at the chamber of commerce, which was the opening gun in a determined fight for a new charter was fired.

Resolutions were passed requesting the enactment of a charter amendment to sever the board of education from domination by city officials by removing the mayor and the councilman as members; to secure legislation admitting women to membership on the board, and to institute suit for recovery of the state school fund and non-resident tuition fees.

Election of a clerk of the recorder's court to succeed Gordon N. Hurtel, who died two weeks ago, is scheduled today.

TEACHERS RE-ELECTED BY DAWSON SCHOOLS

Dawson, Ga., May 15.—Special.)—The city board of education has re-elected Professor J. C. Dukes as superintendent of the Dawson public schools for another year, and also re-elected all the present members of the faculty for another scholastic year.

These are as follows: H. O. Read, principal; J. C. Cheves, mathematics and athletic director; Miss Louise McNulty, Latin and French; Miss Carolyn Remsen, domestic science; Miss Sara English, principal grammar school; Miss Florence Langford, sixth grade; Miss Sallie Kate Wood, fifth grade; Miss Evelyn Smith, fourth grade; Miss Mary Yeomans, third grade; Miss Dollie Highsmith, second grade, and Miss Bessie Pie, principal of primary department. Miss Zillah Hutcheson, of Atlanta, was re-elected music teacher.

The spring session of the schools will end on May 27, and an excellent program of closing exercises is being arranged. The graduating class this year will be the largest in the history of the city schools, being composed of 23 pupils. The annual literary address will be delivered by Dr. Rufus W. Weaver, president of Mercer university, and diplomas will be awarded to the graduating class by Judge M. C. Edwards, president of the board of education.

Proper Observation Of Sunday Is Urged By Dr. A. R. Holderby

"Shall We Surrender the Sabbath to the Devil?" was the subject of Dr. A. R. Holderby's sermon at East Point church Sunday morning.

"The Sabbath," he said, "is God's gift to humanity, one of His best gifts. Man is so constituted that he needs the Sabbath. Every man needs the day—the world needs it. The man who ignores the Sabbath violates the law of his being and will surely pay the penalty.

"Nations in the past have violated this law and have gone down in blood, and nations today are suffering the judgments of an insulted God and they will come to grief.

"When the Almighty ordained the Sabbath as a day of rest and worship, He commanded that men should labor six days and rest on the seventh. It is, therefore, as much the duty of man to labor six days as it is to rest on the seventh."

Boll Weevil Active.

Juliette, Ga., May 15.—(Special.) Boll weevil infestation in heavy, according to reports from different parts of the country, and a good deal of concern is being expressed for the cotton crop this season. In some sections weevels are killing cetton plants and farmers are plowing up the crops. The cotton crop, not only in Monroe, but in adjoining counties, is expected to be the smallest in years.

MORTUARY

Mrs. J. D. Scarbrough.

Mrs. J. D. Scarbrough died Saturday night at the residence in Union City, Ga. Mrs. Scarbrough is survived by her husband; four sons, E. F., T. M., T. E. and H. G. Scarbrough, and two daughters, Mrs. Clara Hudgins and Mrs. Lula Derrick, both of Union City.

BRISBINE PARK FOR SALE

Old-timers will remember the former baseball park on Windsor St., at the corner of Crumley St. We are now offering this historic property for sale. It fronts 485 ft. on Windsor St. and 340 ft. on Crumley St. extending through to Glenn St.

In a subdivision this would make 36 building lots of the size common in that locality; but we would hate to see this fine piece of property cut up into building lots. It is more suited for some institutional purpose.

Anyone who has ever attempted to buy an entire city block from numerous owners can testify as to the difficulty of assembling such a large body of land as this. There is a distinctive advantage in buying such property while in the hands of one owner. We would like to talk to anyone who would likely be in the market for a large city block of this kind.

Notice to Builders and Heating Contractors

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the secretary of the Board of Control, Tallahassee, Florida, until 10 a. m., June 8, 1921, for the final completion of kitchen and pantry, finishing the basement of Broward Hall, finishing the arcades from Broward Hall to Bryan Hall, and from Broward Hall to Dining Hall, including plumbing revisions in Bryan Hall; completing the infirmary or hospital building, adding on back extension, and completing arcade to Reynolds Hall and including the heating; making certain revisions in the attic of annex to Reynolds Hall, and completing the work in training school, including the installation of heat; all for the Florida State College for Women, which work is partially built and existing on the grounds of the said institution.

Each bid for completion of the building work must be accompanied with a certified check in the amount of $500.00, and each bid for the heating work with a certified check in the amount of $100.00, made payable to J. B. Hodges, Chairman, as a guarantee that if awarded the contract the successful bidder will immediately enter into contract and furnish surety bond as required by the specifications. The checks are to be recognizable at any bank for payment with the simple endorsement of J. B. Hodges, Chairman. Otherwise bid will be thrown out.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Drawings and specifications may be seen at the office of Edwards and Sayward, Architects, 609 Chamber of Commerce Building, Atlanta, Georgia; and at the office of the president at the college, Tallahassee, Florida.

Buildings and heating contractors wishing to bid may obtain drawings and specifications from the architects by accompanying their application with certified check in the amount of $25.00 payable to Edwards and Sayward, Architects.

Failure on the part of any contractor to give bona fide bid for the work or return the drawings and specifications to the architects after bids are received will forfeit the said check to the architects.

Subcontractors wishing the drawings and specifications are required to pay the architects $10.00 cash for the use of same.
By order of the
